VOTE STRAIGHT: DON'T SCRATCH THE TICKET!

"Let Us Give Decent Encouragement To Railways, and Nothing More."

—Premier McBride in 1908

WILL HE SIGN!

THESE ARE THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATES

HONEST JOHN OLIVER

R. L. DRURY

W. K. HOUSTON

A. J. MORLEY

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE!

Liberals, don't split the ticket!

McBride, Bowser and Green are out to pledge the credit of the province to a railway company which has contracted to give practically no security. A vote for the McBride ticket means a mandate to the government to do it.

Next to voting right the important thing is to vote early.

And now the Colonist is appealing to Liberals to vote for the government. Don't sound good from a government that is going to "sweep the country."

John Oliver, the watch dog, is indispensable to the people of the province, whether as head of the government or of the opposition. He caused the downfall of one bad government, and no man in British Columbia is keener in detecting wrong doing or more fearless in condemning it. Victoria can't afford to lose his services in the House. There are two Oliver's on the ticket. Mark your ballot for "John."

McBride's is the third "fake" contract made by Mackenzie & Mann with the governments of British Columbia in ten years. Make sure it will be the last.

Messrs. Thomson, Davey and Behnsen say they will resign if the Barkley Sound railway is not built. Good! Col. Prior said he would do the same when the last Mackenzie & Mann contract was under consideration. And he did. He placed his resignation in the hands of George Russell and the other supporters, but they refused to accept it. Who says the public are not safeguarded?

What will Victoria get from a ministry in which William J. Bowser is finance minister?

If it took the Big Four two years and a half to accomplish nothing, why give them another lease of office to duplicate that accomplishment?

If a safe man like Capt. Tatlow, who was on the inside, couldn't stand for the railway contract, the wise course for the Conservative elector is to pass it up too.

Mr. Morley holds that the people should have a chance for direct action on all big deals. It certainly is better than to ask for a verdict on an undisclosed bargain.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR POLLING

HEAVY VOTE IS EXPECTED TO-MORROW

Busy Scene at Transfer Stables in Preparing Booths.

INFORMATION FOR ELECTORS

Polling Place—Victoria Transfer Co.'s stables.

Entrance—From Broughton street (northwest corner opposite rear of Pemberton's new block).

Polls open—At 8 a. m.
Polls close—At 7 p. m.
Number of voters on list—8,007.

Liberal committee rooms for day, corner of Fort and Broad.

C. S. Baxter, returning officer, and a big crowd of assistants worked all last night and to-day, rushing the job of preparing the Victoria Transfer Company's premises. Where polling will take place to-morrow for the provincial general elections. A Times reporter inspected the booths this morning and the arrangements seem excellent.

Electors will enter the premises from Broughton street, at the northwest corner of the building. The entire area in this wing of the spacious building has been subdivided into passages and booths, and with the crowd always directed in one current little confusion should ensue. The exit lies in the east corner, leading into the main driveway of the building, and thence to Broughton street again.

The polling booths will undoubtedly present the busiest scene ever witnessed at an election held in the history of Victoria, for there will be a staff of between 400 and 500 election officials constantly on duty. This will afford some idea of the elaborate arrangements necessary for recording the heavy vote which is expected.

The voters' list is the largest in the history of the city, there being no less than 8,007 persons registered. There will be 50 deputy returning officers, 55 poll clerks, 10 special constables, besides the returning officer, Mr. Baxter, and the election clerk, Sidney Child.

The polls will open at 8 a. m., and close at 7 p. m. All the saloons and bars of the city will be closed and no intoxicating liquor shall be sold from midnight until the regular hour for opening on Friday morning.

Mr. Baxter, the returning officer, said to the Times this morning that he expected that the verdict of the electors of Victoria would be made known shortly after 8 p. m., as the work of counting the ballots had been subdivided in such a way that the process would not take much time. The Times will bulletin the results as the count progresses.

SONGHEES RESERVE.

"We propose to ask the legislature to put a sum of money at our disposal with which to get the Indians a new reserve and place a fund with the Dominion government in trust for them. The first thing is to settle with the Indians and Dominion government and having settled that the reserve in the shape we can say to the City of Victoria: 'We will recognize your rights; you have made the value of this land; we will make good to you what Premier McBride only gave you the shadow of and convey to you 23 acres of the reserve.' That we will have the co-operation of the Dominion government in such a settlement is shown by this telegram received by Mr. Drury on Saturday:

"I have no objection to your proposal that the provincial government buy Songhees reserve on terms satisfactory to Indians, and will co-operate to that effect.—Frank Oliver." (John Oliver at Broad street last night.)

The monthly meeting of the mission board of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Wellwood, yesterday afternoon. The matron's report was highly satisfactory, the receipts for the last month giving great encouragement to the workers. The Bible class, led by Mr. Young on Sunday afternoons, was shown to be largely attended and much appreciated by the men. The Saturday evening concerts are proving very enjoyable, and the one given by the St. Andrew's Young People's Society last Saturday night was pronounced a great success. The ladies of the W.C.T.U. are holding an all-day prayer meeting to-morrow at the Y.M.C.A. commencing at 9.30 in the morning, to which all are welcome.

All the little ones of the infant class of St. John's Sunday school are invited to meet at their teacher's home, 1915 Cook street, Saturday next 27th, at 7.30 p.m., for games and tea.

STAMPEDE TO NEW DIGGINGS IN ALASKA

Strike at Iditarod is Attracting Miners From Every Creek.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 24.—The importance of the Iditarod strike is growing and to-day it is declared to be the greatest in the history of Alaska. Every camp is being deserted and a stampede is in full swing to the new diggings. Hundreds of men are on the trails and the rush is similar to that which depopulated Nome and made a city of Dawson.

Ramps Peterson, who arrived in Nome to-day, reports one mile of rich pay streak in sight which will average $1.50 to the foot. Many other rich streaks are reported from this section. A party of men started yesterday to string telephone wires from Kaltag to the new diggings and the work is to be pushed as rapidly as possible.

RAILWAY AGREEMENT AN ELECTION DODGE

Sir Hibbert Tupper Agains Scores Premier McBride's Policy.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Nov. 24.—Manitoba's Canadian Northern Railway bargain as compared with that secured for British Columbia, the "real contract," as opposed to the allegedly padded agreement claimed by Premier McBride and his colleagues, were the subjects of a two-hour address given at North Vancouver last night by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. Opportunity was also taken to reply at length to the criticisms directed at him by the Premier and others.

Sir Charles was in fine form and spoke well, presenting his case clearly and forcefully. He showed that by consulting freely with the interested bodies, the Manitoba government had made a most advantageous agreement with the Canadian Northern, while on the other hand, in British Columbia, no one had been taken into the confidence of the Premier and Mr. Bowser, not even other members of the cabinet.

The pact had been practically a secret one, and when it did finally see the light of day, as soon demonstrated to be an entirely one-sided bargain.

Sir Hibbert was strongly of the opinion that the clauses not present in the original contract which were claimed to be added concessions would prove later to be only election dodges. One, for instance, was the matter of the control of freight rates.

TRACKWALKER DESERTED POST

Is Arrested Charged With Being Responsible for Fatal Wreck.

(Times Leased Wire.)

The Dalles, Ore., Nov. 24.—S. B. Lewis, a track walker, is under arrest here to-day charged with being responsible for the wreck at Warrandale, on the O. R. & N., Monday, in which Engineer Thomas F. Rogers was killed and two other members of the train crew were hurt.

The wreck was made by Detective E. E. Wood, of the O. R. & N. Company, and Deputy Sheriff Leonard, after a chase lasting 24 hours, in which neither pursuer or pursued stopped for sleep or food. Lewis admits that he left his station 20 minutes ahead of time on the day of the wreck, and says that if he had stayed at his post of duty the wreck probably would not have happened.

HAND LOGGERS "SEWED UP" BY W. J. BOWSER

Attorney-General's Prostitution of Office Is Disclosed By Extracts Taken From the Supreme Court Records.

Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general of British Columbia, who speaks on behalf of the Conservative party in Victoria to-night, has prostituted his official position for personal ends, has used his office for the purpose of "sewing up" hand loggers in the province, is told in the records of the British Columbia courts. The infamous story of Bowser's instructions to "handcuff about half a dozen, and have them herded by two or three officers, if the Alert Bay jail is too full to hold them, to 'arrest the men first and find out if they are guilty afterwards,' is fully told in the case of Peter Saverd against the Pacific Trading and Timber Company, in which the arrested man got $1,000 damages, winning, in both courts.

The full story has been brought to light at meetings of John Jardine in the Esquimalt electorate this week, where W. H. Langley recited the whole matter, and read extracts from the evidence in the case. It is as follows: On file in the records of the court is the case of Saverd vs. The Pacific Timber and Trading Company, and a letter written on the advice of Attorney-General Bowser by D. W. Trotter, managing director of the Pacific Timber and Trading Company, to the company's timber cruiser, N. A. McKinnon, which will be of startling interest to everybody, and to loggers in particular.

Mr. Trotter consulted Mr. Bowser as to what he should do to "sew up" hand loggers who were legally operating to the prejudice of the company's interests. The letter is dated September 14th, 1907.

Peter Saverd was one of these unfortunate loggers. He was arrested and thrown into jail at Alert Bay. He was subsequently brought to Vancouver and then to New Westminister jail. He was tried and found "not guilty." He then brought action against McKinnon and the company for malicious prosecution and unlawful arrest. He got a verdict and $1,000 damages. The company appealed the case and lost it.

At the trial Mr. Trotter was asked by the judge where he got his instructions for the famous letter. His reply was: "The instructions of Mr. Bowser, which he wanted Mr. McKinnon to carry out, and that and nothing more."

The letter instructed the company's official to go north and find the hand loggers "and use the jail at Alert Bay until it gets full, and then send down the road in charge of the officer to Vancouver." Another sentence reads, "If the jail at Alert Bay gets too full, and the fishing is good, I would put the handcuffs on about half-a-dozen and have them herded by two or three officers, that can be sworn in at Alert Bay."

The next paragraph reads: "If there is any question in your mind as to who the principals are, in case you find a large camp, arrest enough men until you are sure you get the right one."

Another paragraph says: "I think it very important to seize the grant, stones, tools, chains, hooks as well as booms, as this entirely 'sews them up' together with all camping material."

Another paragraph reads: "I suggested that you have as little to say to the men as possible. I wish to correct this by stating that you have as much to say, in order to get them to talk to secure evidence, but avoid saying anything that might be construed by the defence in court as duress or threats."

Giving his sworn evidence in the case, D. W. Trotter, manager of the company, was asked how the letter containing the foregoing extracts became written. The answers taken from the court records were:

"Why, the only point is this: Mr. Bowser gave Mr. McKinnon very specific pointed instructions in Mr. Campbell's office."

The court—"In your presence?"

Answer—"In my presence. To the effect that inasmuch as he hired our boat to the men at the government, and I went immediately to my office and did not lose a moment after the instructions in dictating the letter as near as possible exactly what Mr. Bowser said."

The court—"And that was the entire original source of the letter?"

Answer—"Yes, the instruction of Mr. Bowser, which he wanted Mr. McKinnon to carry out."

Cross-examined—"Whose idea was it to get up these hand loggers?"

The court—"He says it was Mr. Bowser."

Witness—"It was Mr. Bowser's words. He said so."

Question—"Whose idea was it, if you have any doubt as to whether a man is guilty, arrest him and find out whether he is guilty afterwards?"

Answer—"I had nothing to do with it. That is Mr. Bowser's instructions."

ABSOLUTELY NO GUARANTEE

Any security the province might ever hope to have against a guarantee of C. N. R. bonds keeps on receding farther and farther. At Broad street hall last night John Oliver read a prospectus of the issue of $5,000,000 of C. N. R. debenture stock, dated London, October 27th—eight days after dissolution.

This states that the debenture stock is secured by a general charge upon the company's undertaking, property and assets, under a trust deed with the British Empire Trust Co., Ltd., of England, and the National Trust Co., Ltd., of Canada, "and is a specific first mortgage."

"Where, then, does any possibility of British Columbia's security come in?" asked Mr. Oliver.

A map accompanying the prospectus shows the company's proposed British Columbia line as running down by Nicola and out to the coast through the Hope mountains, the route McBride and Bowser say is impracticable!

And this map and prospectus, he it remembered, were issued after the McBride-Bowser-Mann contract was announced.

Mr. Jardine pointed out to the electors the absurdity of the McBride railway policy, inasmuch as its connection with Vancouver Island was never intended and would never be carried out.

Mr. Jardine then took up local matters, and dealt particularly with road work, showing that above the grant of $25,000 for the Esquimalt riding for roads, there had been an additional $10,000 spent, which had been provided through a secret caucus of the cabinet.

This money, however, had not been openly spent, but had been used by the government for election bribes in little pieces of road where a vote or two could possibly be got. He made a scathing attack on this system of secret caucuses.

Mr. Jardine went over the policy of the Liberals in detail, presenting it most fully to the electors, who by the applause were entirely in sympathy with it.

William Baylis, who has had years of experience in the Northwest and knows the whole history of the Canadian Northern through actual contact with it, dealt with the railway matter in good style and showed satisfactorily to the audience that the bargain should not be accepted as proposed by the premier.

Mr. Hobbs, of San Juan, spoke at length on local matters of the district, and told the electors also that Mr. McBride's interference with the present Barkley Sound railway charter was a matter that should be strongly resented. He was applauded.

H. Mann also spoke to the electors on the whole campaign and its issues, and Henry Holmsten gave them the benefit of his vast experience in the country and also in politics. The chairman, Mr. Fraser, made a stirring address, and a musical programme was given by Messrs. Melville, Dobbie and Wright.

The meeting was unanimous on one thing, that John Jardine will be the Liberal representative of Esquimalt as far as the Sooke vote is concerned, and as the rest of the constituency is of a like opinion, the Liberals are sure of victory.

SHUT DOWN SCHOOL: TEACHER CANVASSING

Quatsino Residents Incensed Over Action of McBride Government.

The children of Quatsino are not at school just now. School does not keep while the election is in progress. The school has been closed by instructions and the schoolmaster is engaged in canvassing and working against H. C. Brewster, the late member, and in support of the government candidate.

Information received here from the West Coast is to the effect that the school has been shut down for two weeks, and there is great dissatisfaction among the hardy fishermen and settlers that the education of their children should be made subservient to the McBride government in its effort to keep control of office.

The local option committee will have its headquarters for the polling day situated at Cusack's garage, between the Transfer stables and Cusack's printing shop. This place has been well fitted up and a telephone has been installed for the use of all those who are working in the interests of the plebeians.

NEW THEATRE
NOW IN SIGHT
RICKETTS OFFERS FIVE PER CENT. ON INVESTMENT
City Council Will Be Asked to Lease Site Near Empress Hotel.

There are over fifty thousand dollars in sight for the new theatre and a committee has been appointed to try to secure a free site from the city. There is a suitable piece of land at the rear of the Empress hotel which could be leased on a long term for theatre purposes, and which would insure the success of the scheme. The matter was thoroughly discussed yesterday afternoon at the special meeting of the board of trade which was called for the purpose.
A good deal of light was let in upon the matter yesterday. A letter from Mr.
Ricketts was read which showed that he was willing to guarantee a net five per cent. dividend on an investment of $100,000. This places the matter in a wholly different light to what was generally understood, and with that in view there is no doubt but what the money will be raised. The lease to be given Mr. Ricketts would be for one or two years, and after that time the rent would be raised, so that it is quite probable the building would be one of the best investments in the city before long.
Several of the people who have already subscribed have said that if it was absolutely necessary they would increase their subscriptions.
The committee will ask Mr. Lindsay to extend the option given them on his property, so that if nothing can be obtained from the city that property may be still available. The difficulty with that property is that it is not quite large enough. The length of the theatre should be 335 feet whereas the lot on Douglas street is only 120 feet. Mr.
Rattenbury, in discussing the matter, said that he thought the city could lease the property at the rear of the Empress hotel, as it would be a great thing for the whole city to have a good opera house. He was also of opinion that arrangements could be made with the C. P. R. to get the heat and light at a cheap rate from them. Every person who owned property in the city would benefit from the fact that an opera house was built here.
There was a long discussion, in which a large number of the members of the board took part. It was shown that the architect employed had decided that nothing could be done with the old building. There was no deal made with John Cort, and if satisfactory arrangements could not be made with him there were plenty of independent companies who could be brought here which would make the theatre a paying concern.
On a motion of J. Herrick McGregor a committee was appointed to take the matter up with the city. The committee appointed consisted of J. Herrick McGregor, F. B. Pemberton, Joseph Sayward, Charles Hayward, F.
M. Rattenbury and Simon Leiser. This committee will try to meet the city council at a special meeting if one can be arranged, or if not they will attend the Friday night meeting of the roads and bridges committee.
Another special meeting of the board will be held in the near future to hear the report of the committee.

WANT BOARD
OF CONTROL
SUGGESTED CHANGE IN CIVIC SYSTEM
Petition Being Circulated
Which Will Shortly Be Presented to Council.

W. J. Hanna is circulating a petition to be presented to the city council praying for the introduction of a by-law providing for the creation of a board of control to manage the public affairs of the city from the first of the coming year. The petition is being largely signed.
The agitation for such a change in the system of municipal government has been afoot for a considerable period, though it is only recently that it has taken practical form. It is understood that those behind the presented movement have received assurances that a sufficient number of the members of the present council will be favorable to the introduction of the by-law. Of course it is obvious that should the council refuse to grant the prayer of the petitioners the whole thing would collapse as far as any immediate change in the present system is concerned.
The full text of the petition is as follows:
Gentlemen:—The petition of the underigned humbly sheweth:
1. That provision is made in sections 322 B 322 C, and 322 D, of the Municipal Clauses Act for establishing a board of control for the management of the business of the city, such board to be composed of the Mayor of the city and two controllers to be nominated and elected from the city at large.
2. That the city council may, by by-law, declare that the business of the city may be so managed from the commencement of the year, 1910.
3. That, in the opinion of your petitioners, the time has arrived for taking advantage of said provisions, and for the creation of such a board whose powers and duties shall be those defined in the act.
4. That, in view of the large amount of time and attention which the controllers will, of necessity, have to give to the discharge of the duties prescribed, or assigned to them, their salaries should be commensurate with the obligations and responsibilities of their position.
5. That, on account of the corresponding diminution in the salaries and functions of aldermen, the salaries of aldermen should be abolished.
Therefore the undersigned hereby petition your honorable body to pass, and submit a by-law to the electors, at the earliest possible date, to provide for the creation of such a board of control at the next municipal election in accordance with the provisions of the said act.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Ordi-

"Our present system," said General Wood, "results generally in the best

Last year over 17 million pounds of

FINAL RALLIES
IN DISTRICTS
MEETINGS AT ROYAL
OAK AND ESQUIMALT
Victory Assured for Liberal Candidates in Both Ridings.

Two final rallies of the campaign will be held in the districts this evening, the one at Royal Oak, in the interests of Thomas A. Brydon, the Liberal candidate, and the other at the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home, Esquimalt, on behalf of the candidature of John Jardine, the opposition standard bearer in that riding.
All reports from Saanich agree that Mr. Brydon's election may be taken as a foregone conclusion. He has put up a splendid fight—clean, but none the less aggressive and effective. He stands very high with the farmers, as he is one of them, and they exercise a pre-ponderant influence in the constituency. The fact that his opponent, D.
M. Eberts, K. C., is a lawyer and non-resident, has alienated the support of many who on general principles agree with the policy of government. It is of extreme significance that Saanich which would stand to be benefited were the McBride railway policy carried out as drafted on paper, is strongly opposed to the government, indicating as it does that the electors of that constituency are indisposed to be trifled with by such an absurd connection with the Island as is proposed via English Bluff.
A similarly cheery report comes from Esquimalt. John Jardine will surely carry the Liberal flag to victory. It is admitted, however, that he has as an opponent a gentleman who is very popular with a large portion of the electorate—H. D. Helmecken, K.
C. The latter has made a very vigorous canvas and spent a great deal of time in the constituency since the date of dissolution, but it is clear to all familiar with the situation there today that he has failed lamentably in his effort to stem the tide of popularity which is running in favor of the Liberal candidate.
At Mr. Jardine's closing meeting at Esquimalt this evening there will be a fine programme of speeches and music.
The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock, and seats will be reserved for ladies who are specially invited to attend.

Dr. W. B. Clayton, of Nelson, is in the city having just arrived from that city. He says that the Liberal candidate, E. A. Crease, will be elected in Nelson. There is a good deal of dissatisfaction among the Conservatives at that place and many of them will on this occasion support the Liberals.
Mr. Crease is a strong candidate and will assuredly capture the seat from Harry Wright.
Nelson is only one of the many seats which will be so won from the Tories.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—The "anti-corner" rule provided that in case of a squeeze that commodity or mail delivery day, and the interested parties would be compelled to settle accordingly. An-

SOME FACTS FOR THE ELECTORS

The responsibility of enabling the Canadian Northern Railway to reach both oceans naturally rests upon the Dominion rather than upon the provinces, and there never has been any reason to doubt that the Dominion would discharge that responsibility.

But the McBride government proposes to relieve the Dominion of that responsibility so far as British Columbia is concerned by mortgaging the province for $2,000,000. Nothing can be better illustrative of the hollowness of the cry of better terms than the willingness thus shown to assume a responsibility that the province was not required to assume, and which it has not the financial strength to bear.

If the contract lives better terms as a party cry will surely die. Premier McBride has been trying to persuade people to support him in thus saddling the burdens which should be borne by the Dominion upon the province by showing them how determinedly he is fighting against the Dominion.

At Nelson Mr. Bowser instanced the alleged protection of provincial interests in the sale of the Prince Rupert Indian reserve to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company and the fight the province was putting up on Indian titles generally.

Inquiry at the Indian department at Ottawa has disclosed the fact that in the sale of Indian rights at Prince Rupert the federal government specially stipulated, and the Grand Trunk Pacific Company agreed under seal, that the sale of the Indian rights did not in any way affect the rights of the province.

This was before Bowser had anything to do with the matter. The McBride government, however, afterwards took the position that the Indians had no right except that of occupants of provincial lands, and that any attempt on their part to transfer any portion of their rights by sale or lease absolutely forfeited their right of occupation of the land to the province. This action has tied up the Indian lands. If Indians could not give a title, no title could be given so long as the provincial government stood ready to attack it.

The Dominion government then asked that a mutual reference be made to the courts. But so far the provincial government has not agreed to a reference, and the reserves remain tied up.

Notwithstanding the McBride contention that the Indians had only the right of occupants of the land, worth in some cases over $100 an acre, McBride has not hesitated to grant to certain of his friends the rights of the province in these lands at $2.50 an acre.

If the province owns the land, as McBride contends, the interest of the province is sacrificed by selling for $2.50 that which is worth $100, and allowing his friends to make the difference out of the Indians.

The Dominion government has not sold the Indian rights in the lands referred to in Okanagan, and will not do so.

Mr. Bowser's reference to Asiatic labor for the Grand Trunk Pacific are frigid and calculated falsehoods.

The Minister of Railways has denounced as absolutely untrue the statement that Mr. Schreiber or any other person was authorized to speak for the government on that question.

No request has been made at Ottawa to remove the prohibition on Asiatic immigration, and if such request had been made it would have been refused. Mr. Bowser's false report before the last general election on the importation of 50,000 Asiatic laborers for the Grand Trunk Pacific has not been forgotten by the people of British Columbia, and it remains to be seen if a similar scandalous trick will be successful a second time.

THE ISSUES.

The issues of the provincial campaign of 1909 are now before the electors. The case is closed on behalf of both parties. Anything that may be introduced hereafter will be but extraneous matter.

We have no doubt that attempts will be made at the last moment, as Finance Minister Bowser will address a public meeting in Victoria this evening, to thrust forward something of a startling and sensational nature in the forlorn hope of stemming the tide that is running so strongly against the government. But the character of Mr. Bowser is established. His reputation as an unscrupulous and brazen partisan, in whom the truth is not, can never be lived down in the province of British Columbia.

The issues, then, are before the people. On the one hand we have the government of Premier McBride appealing for a new lease of power. The history of that government does not concern us at the present time except in so far as its disruption and the retirement of two of its members presage what may occur in the future.

The Premier is appealing to the people on his railway policy. That policy was conceived and brought forth by only two members of the government—by Mr. McBride and Mr. Bowser. Another hand played an important part in fashioning the programme, but that hand was not the hand of a member of the administration. The only other members of the government thought worth considering were shown the agreement after it was completed, and they incontinently resigned their portfolios.

The people have been told that the deal involves no real liability on the province. The action of the retired ministers is the best answer to that argument. They know more than the public can possibly know regarding the consequences to the province of the arrangement with Mackenzie & Mann, and they have unhesitatingly retired from positions of honor and profit rather than accept the responsibility involved.

The electors of the province cannot so far astray if they follow the course of the ex-Finance Minister and of the ex-Minister of Lands.

On the other hand we have a party led by John Oliver. It is not necessary to say anything at this eleventh hour as to the character and ability of the Farmer from the Delta—the Man of Destiny in British Columbia.

We have watched his career in the Legislature during the past six years. The people have followed his public course with growing interest. This interest has been increased to a feeling of the deepest admiration by the developments of the present campaign.

John Oliver is not only a man of sterling character. There is not an individual in public life in British Columbia to-day that is his peer in point of ability. He has always been a strong debater. Last night's meeting proved him to be an accomplished speaker. As a parliamentarian John Oliver can now hold his head high in any company.

But it is not so much men with facile tongues the province of British Columbia requires at the present crisis in her affairs. It is true men we need—men of good courage and strong convictions.

The saving remnant in the McBride government, the element which held it in check for six years and prevented it from giving rein to its naturally predatory instincts, has been cast out. The agreement with Mackenzie & Mann is a warning to the electorate of what they may expect if the "rump" of a government be given a free hand for four years. The electorate need have no misgivings if they turn McBride out and put Oliver in.

The progress of British Columbia does not depend upon the continuance in power of Hon. Richard McBride. The future of the province depends largely upon his being turned out just when the carnival predicted by Bowser is about to begin.

The leader of the Liberal party has announced his railway policy and his general policy—progress and relief from burdensome taxation. That is what the people want and need. It is what they will get if they elect a majority of the candidates of the Liberal party.

ABOUT RESIGNATIONS.

We are told that Premier McBride and all his candidates in Victoria will resign should their pledges not be carried out in regard to the construction of the Canadian Northern Railway. And the gentlemen and their organs profess to be wounded in their most tender part at the idea of this pledge not being accepted as given in good faith. Are they not all honorable men?

But electors will remember that their experience with Conservatives in this matter of solemn pledges has been most unfortunate. Let us cite a few instances.

Colonel Prior, not so many years ago, was a candidate in Victoria for a seat in the Provincial Legislature. The Colonel appealed upon a railway policy. That policy involved direct rail connection between the capital and the mainland. He gave a written pledge that if his promises were not carried out he would resign his seat. The undertaking was placed in the hands of a committee of his political friends. The railway was not built. The Colonel was asked to redeem his pledge—and his excuse for failing to do so, was that the committee would not permit him to resign. They had the document and refused to give it up. In the case of the Colonel it must be admitted that he carried out the affair with such a merry twinkle in his eye that no one was offended. His political friends knew the whole thing was a humbug; his political opponents of any experience at all expected that he would do precisely what he did do.

Mr. G. H. Barnard during the late Dominion election campaign told the people of Victoria that if he could not settle the Songhees reserve question in six months he would resign his seat. Mr. Barnard has not settled the reserve question. He has never mentioned it or touched it in his capacity as a member so far as any one can find out from the records. Has Mr. Barnard resigned? Is there the slightest probability of his resigning? Did any one ever hear of a member of the Barnard family resigning anything he laid his hands upon?

Messrs. McBride, Davey, Thomson and Behnen are not going to be elected to-morrow, but if by any chance the electors of Victoria should be so forgetful of the past and so indifferent to the future as to elect any one of them, they will not hear a word about either pledges or resignations until the term of the Legislature to be elected to-morrow has expired.

HOW THEY "HELPED"

VICTORIA GROW.

In the early stages of the campaign Mr. W. K. Houston offered a reward of $50 to anybody who could find in the reports of the debates in the legislature one single sentence that had been uttered by any one of Victoria's four Conservative members in respect to three matters that were, and are, of special interest to this city, namely, the Normal School, the Provincial University and the Court of Appeal.

No person has come forward to claim the prize offered by Mr. Houston. Neither have Messrs. McBride, Behnen, Davey and Thomson been able to answer the charge.

The three matters above mentioned all came before the legislature during the last three sessions. Not only so, but no less than three deputations of Victoria citizens, composed largely of Conservatives, waited upon the government and urged the claims of this city, and yet Mr. McBride and his three colleagues never so much as uttered one word in the legislature on behalf of Victoria's claims to a Normal School, to the University or the Court of Appeal. They sat dumb in their seats and witnessed the spectacle of this city being shorn of its rightful inheritance as the capital of the province. Now these same gentlemen, Messrs. McBride, Behnen, Davey and Thomson, have the effrontery to come before the electors of Victoria and ask the people to return them again to "help Victoria grow!"

BLEEDING THE PEOPLE—

FEEDING MACKENZIE & MANN

Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General and Minister of Finance, told his constituents in Vancouver, and the government candidates here have repeated the statement, that the province has five million dollars in the bank and can put its hand at any time upon twenty millions more by selling public lands at Point Grey and Prince Rupert. This statement is made for the purpose of rebutting the opposition contention that the credit of the province cannot but be effected by incurring a liability in excess of forty million dollars for the benefit principally of Mackenzie & Mann. This is a confession that the present Finance Minister, irresponsible and reckless though he may be in both word and deed, admits the possibility of the liability ultimately falling upon the provincial treasury. But how was this surplus of five million dollars obtained? By piling heavier taxation upon the people of British Columbia than any other province of the Dominion is called upon to bear. How would the twenty-five million dollars be realized if necessity compelled the government to raise it? By dissipating the assets of the province which ought to be conserved and preserved for the purpose of relieving the people of the province from the excessive load of taxation they are called upon to bear. But our readers will have observed that although there is five million dollars in the bank, unfortunately at the call of Mr. Bowser, there is no suggestion that the taxes on the public, some of them most oppressive and unjust taxes, should be abolished. Not at all. Iniquitous taxation is to be maintained and provincial assets are to be wasted for the purpose of inducing the Canadian Northern Railway to build down through the province to Van-cover when that railway has been heading that way for years, its very life depending upon an outlet to the Pacific Coast.

One of the noticeable features of the speeches of the government candidates of late has been the omission of all reference to the ferry connection between English Bluff and nowhere in particular. They have confined their attention entirely to the Barkley Sound Railway and talk as though the construction of that line depended upon the maintenance in power of the McBride government. It is entirely to the credit of the four Tory candidates that they have become ashamed of a transparent attempt to humbug the electors of Victoria. But perhaps it is not so much shame that is determining their actions as the fact that every allusion in their meetings to English Bluff has been received with jeers and laughter.

Finance Minister Bowser has told the people of Vancouver that the new railway—one of six—will pour one million dollars a month into their pockets. Mr. Bowser is more candid with his late constituency than Premier McBride is with his former constituents. Perhaps the Finance Minister when he comes down this evening to blow off steam and other vapors will undertake to say just how much money per month will flow into the pockets of Victorians through the construction of the ferry from English Bluff to nowhere in particular.

Addressing the electors of Victoria on the evening of the day of the last provincial election, Premier McBride promised "in the future to do more for the capital city than in the past and to make it a worthy rival of Vancouver." In what manner has that pledge been redeemed? What has Premier McBride as the representative of Victoria done for the city?

The final rally of the campaign in the city in the interests of the Liberal candidates will be held this evening in Broad street hall, and it is proposed to make the occasion a memorable one. There will be short speeches by the candidates—John Oliver, the popular leader, R. L. Drury, W. K. Houston and A. J. Morley. The addresses will be interspersed with songs and musical selections. Special arrangements have been made for this feature of the evening's programme. The affair is under the auspices of the Young Liberal Club, and in view of their past successes in organizing political gatherings another splendid achievement is anticipated.

The Liberals were never so confident of scoring a great victory in Victoria as they are to-day. Said a prominent worker in the interests of the opposition candidates this morning: "We are going to elect the entire ticket. There is no doubt about that, whatever. We have made a most careful canvass of the city, and the reports we have received satisfy us that not only will we win with such majorities that the Conservatives may lose their deposits."

It is undeniable that a spirit of the most cherry optimism pervades the ranks of the Liberals. On all sides are smiling faces, while their opponents look grim and despondent. Premier McBride's home coming having proved such a fiasco has apparently taken the heart out of the Conservatives, who are no longer boastful of an easy victory, but working like Trojans to save their ticket from an overwhelming defeat. The complete exposure of the fake nature of the suggested railway connection via English Bluff and steam ferry has turned many Conservatives away from their party leaders. Victoria is not again to be caught with the bait of a phantom railway. Then, again, the failure of the city's representatives in the last legislature to "do something" for Victoria has disgusted many former supporters who to-morrow will mark their ballots in favor of the Liberal candidates.

While the meeting to-night will take the form of a smoking concert, there will be no smoking until after 9.45, as many ladies have been invited to be present and hear the addresses of the candidates.

"What is one man's Food is another man's Poison!"

This is a truism we cannot get away from. Then, because one person is not man enough to refrain from whisky when it is harmful to his constitution, should another person be so held in bondage that he cannot get whisky when it is good for him?

We think not! A true Briton loathes this kind of slavery—he must be free to buy what he wants and when he wants it.

Local Optimists and Prohibitionists could easily solve the problem of letting whisky get the best of them by always getting the best of whisky.

Every bottle of our whisky—Whyte & Mackay's Special Old Scotch—is guaranteed to be pure and properly aged. Every precaution is taken by us to insure that it is absolutely pure and beneficial to health when taken in moderation. Moderation we believe to be the essence of true temperance.

CHRISTMAS DINNER FOR LONDON POOR

Contributions to Be Sent This Year as in the Past.

Since Sir John Kirk's visit a few years ago, Victoria has each year cheerfully subscribed with increasing interest to a fund for giving Christmas cheer to destitute children in London, suffering through no fault of their own. Last year $500 was forwarded, and full particulars were published in the newspapers of the good times the children had, and that several cripple carriages were purchased with the balance over and above the cost of the dinner.

All money subscribed directly benefits the children as the Shaftesbury Society has an army of voluntary helpers. The Sunday schools have been the chief contributors to this fund, all the schools in this city being interested last year. Similar envelopes to those distributed last year have again been printed and will be given as usual by the treasurer, A. J. Brace, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who will also be pleased to receive any voluntary contributions.

HOW McBRIDE TRIED TO "DO SOMETHING" FOR VICTORIA.

(Extract from Journal of the House, March 12th, 1903.)

The adjourned consideration of the report on Bill 17, entitled "An act respecting the Songhees Indian Reserve," was resumed.

On Mr. Cameron's amendment to add the following as sub-section to section 2:

(1) For a free grant to the city of Victoria of twenty-five acres (more or less) of the reserve lying to the north of Esquimalt road, such land to be used for public park purposes, upon such terms and conditions as the lieutenant-governor in council may prescribe;

(2) By giving to the city of Victoria the first right to purchase or acquire the seven-acre and a half acres (more or less) of the said reserve lying to the south of the E. & N. right of way upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the city and the lieutenant-governor in council;

(3) By a free grant to the city of Victoria of sites for purposes of: (a) public school or schools; (b) fire hall; (c) three public landing places, including wharves and buildings, upon such terms as the lieutenant-governor in council may prescribe;

(4) The remaining portions of the reserve may be disposed of by public auction under the terms and conditions as prescribed in the "Land Act."

The House divided. The amendment was negatived on the following division:

Ayes: Messrs. McInnis, Tanner, Henderson, Wells, Drury, Oliver, Ver, Munro, Hall, Murphy, J. A. Macdonald, Paterson, Cameron, Evans—12.

Nays: Messrs. Hawthorthwaite, Cotton, A. Macdonald, Young, Williams, Ellison, Green, Gifford, Taylor, Clifton, Fulton, Shastford, McBride, Bowers, Evans, Wilson, Fraser, Taylor—12.

—Rev. Mr. Wilson gave an address on "How Missions are Carried On in the North" at the meeting of the club of First Presbyterian church last Monday evening.

—A concert and dance will be given on Friday evening next by the Esquimalt Athletic Association at their club rooms, Canteen grounds. A most enjoyable time is anticipated and a large attendance is expected. Final arrangements have now been made and all points to a most successful evening.

CARING FOR THE FISHING ROD.

At odd times on winter evenings we get out our tackle to repair it so that it shall be ready to pick up at the opening of the season in early spring. Among the rods we possess, be they of solid wood, bamboo, or steel, there are sure to be parts that need repairing. A steel rod should be looked over carefully—susty scratches and blemishes sand papered and enameled. If the joints are dry or rusty they should be well oiled after being thoroughly cleaned; the rings that fasten the reel should have attention that they may work easily, all dust and sand being removed.

When the enamel is quite dry, the rod can be put in its case or tied in the line cover and put away. On rods of solid wood, especially those used in salt water, the silk or cord winding is soon frayed or broken; these should be rewound, particularly on tips. This

LOCAL BANKERS TO PLAY VANCOUVER TEAM

Basketball Game Will Be Played at Skating Rink Saturday Night.

On Saturday evening next the local bankers' basketball team will clash with the Vancouver bankers quintette at the roller rink. It is expected that there will be a large number out to witness the game, as the opening matches of the basketball season are always largely patronized.

That the Vancouver organization will be strongly represented is beyond doubt, and they will give the local boys a hard time of it. The Victoria bill counters, however, are confident that they will come out on top and show their superiority. The latter team has already showed that it is a good one by defeating and giving a number of other local teams a hard contest.

With two teams feeling that they are the better of the other, an excellent game will be seen. The match will start at 9 o'clock sharp and skating will be allowed before and after it.

Neither the local line-up nor the Vancouver team is yet known, but they will be announced in the course of a few days.

PROTEST OVER THE FIRST HOCKEY GAME

Three North Vancouver Men in Hospital From Injuries.

Alleging that the Vancouver team deliberately played a rough and un-sportsmanlike game, the North Vancouver hockey team has sent in a formal protest to the British Columbia Hockey League regarding the opening game of the series which was played at Brockton Point on Saturday afternoon and was won by the Vancouver team by a score of 3 goals to 1. As a result of injuries sustained during the game three of the players from across the inlet are now laid up in bad condition. Russell is in the hospital with a broken ankle, Ward is in bed with a damaged knee, while Cardinal has a gash in his arm three inches long and clear to the bone that will keep him out of the game for two months.

The North Vancouver club claims that the referees did wrong in not ruling off Bayfield, who it is claimed admitted that he struck Cardinal. The latter had to retire in the second half with the score even up, and when he went off the North Vancouver team had only ten men against eleven. After that the Vancouver team scored the two goals which won the game for them. North Vancouver has asked the league to suspend Bayfield for a year and cancel the game.

The game was very rough all through, and the referees apparently were unable to control the players, who seemed to have some old scores to settle. The game itself was not a brilliant exhibition by any means, the play being top earnest to allow the teams to show any fancy touches.

ROWAN'S CHALLENGE TAKEN BY SCHAFER

The challenge offered by Silent Rowan to box any man at 133 pounds has been taken up by Dutch Schaffer, who will take up the gauntlet at 133 pounds to box Rowan on New Year's night either at Victoria, Vancouver or Nanaimo. Schaffer says he has boxed considerably in the east and would like to make a match here. Among his victories are a ten-round decision over Baldwin of Boston, a draw with Loughtry of Philadelphia, and he has also boxed several good lightweights of the east.

NEW GRAND THEATRE.

"The Banker and the Thief," a dramatic playlet being presented at the Grand this week, is drawing lots of audience at the popular vaudeville house. It is cleverly written and admirably acted. There are three characters, Nick Long taking the part of the banker on the verge of ruin who has embezzled the bank's funds, and Lorraine Cotton appearing as Mrs. Carson, the banker's wife, and later as Madge Walker the thief, who obtains an entrance into the banker's home to steal something to turn into money to keep the life in her husband, who is dying. While there she prevents the banker from taking poison, and a most dramatic scene follows, in which Miss Cotton appears to wonderful advantage and shows a dramatic force of exceptional merit.

Of the other turns there is Leon Rogee, an Austrian who is a human orchestra, imitating the various musical instruments in perfect manner, and getting the applause unstinted from the audience. Rogee is also a wonderful whistler and his rendering of the Austrian waltz is a most meritorious performance.

Gertie Everett, an Australian comedienne, is a singer with three songs and a good encore. She makes a success of her work and sings in an original way that goes right to the audience. Nat Nansboro has a good athletic act with two little children, and the song "Daddy" is sung effectively by Thomas J. Price. The moving pictures are a good and versatile bill.

Ex-Gunner William Whiting, of Old Newton, Stowmarket, Eng., who served throughout the Crimean campaign fifty-five years ago, was informed recently that he had been granted an annuity of £10 and a silver medal for meritorious service.

FIFTY THOUSAND WHO LIVE ON BASEBALL

Figures Show How Famous Game Supports a Small Army.

More than 4,000 players in organized professional leagues. And for every reserved player drawing salary, ten independents get their daily bread out of baseball.

In other words, nearly 50,000 boys and men in America draw living salaries because they can catch, throw and hit a ball with some degree of skill.

Think of it—the national "sport" of America employing such an army of men directly, to say nothing of the ticket sellers and ticket takers, landscape gardeners and policemen, ushers, programme boys and vendors of refreshments, from the thirst-quenching peanut to the thirst-quenching pop, who draw much coin of the realm from the baseball loving public.

Some institution, eh? The latest reserve lists of the two big leagues show that there are 750 players tied up with these two organizations. Add to this little bunch the 3,250 players on the reserve list of the various minor league teams, and it runs the grand total of players under the national agreement up to 4,158.

It has been figured that every big league city has about ten teams on which players receive pay. Smaller cities in organized baseball will hardly average half that number. However, to make up the average, there are hundreds of cities in the country too small to support a league team of any kind, but which have independent paid teams. These are they which will keep up the average of ten teams to one in organized baseball.

Some of these 4,000 odd players, in organized baseball during the winter will be dropped before summer sets in, only to be snapped up by independent teams.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—"If McCredie wants to join with us we will go independent and put a club in Portland. We will beat the Coast League, too, as it will cost them $100,000 for new grounds if they attempt to fight us," said D. E. Dugdale, owner of the Seattle Northwestern League Club to-day.

"I want to get back as soon as I can to pick another city to replace Portland. I really do not know what we will do in the case of the Northwestern League next year until I have had a conference with the other club owners. All I know of what has taken place is what I have read in the papers. We did very well this year with teams in Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Spokane, Tacoma and Aberdeen. If we continue in the same way next year we will need another city to fill Portland's place. We have applications from Butte, Everett and Bellingham. We expect to have a meeting in two or three weeks."

Dugdale is arranging several trades with President Berry of the Los Angeles club and Manager Hoagan of the Vernon club, but no names are given out.

OLIVER MAKES GREAT SPEECH

ROUSING RECEPTION TO COMING PREMIER

All the Liberal Candidates Given Enthusiastic Hearing.

Victory was in the very air at the great Liberal rally in Broad street hall last night, victory was in the tone of the meeting, above all there was victory in the speech of the Liberal leader.

Mr. Oliver has come back from the Mainland after addressing thousands of electors, and being the object of a display of enthusiasm which even the "boy premier" has not surpassed. He comes back with a quiet confidence, born of a knowledge of men and his observation of public feeling, that the people are about to free themselves of unworthy leaders. There was no boasting of results or blistering references to opponents—John Oliver is not that sort of man—but nevertheless he inspired in his audience his own conviction that the people can be trusted. It is the sober judgment of experienced local campaigners that there have never been such splendid meetings in the Liberal interests held in Victoria as during the present campaign, and of these last night's was by all odds the best. The Broad street hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and out into the lobby as far as they could be had foot-hold men stood to hear the coming premier. It was a remarkable tribute to the leader that although he spoke for some two hours these men stood all that time without a murmur to listen to him.

In his own forceful way Mr. Oliver placed the policies of the two parties before the electors and left it to their judgments. Clearly and concisely he showed them what may be expected if the McBride government is returned to power to carry out extravagant contracts, and drew the contrast of what conditions could be made by the adoption of a sound and progressive policy such as the Liberal party stands for.

The welcome given Mr. Oliver was of the most enthusiastic nature possible. As he entered the hall the audience rose to its feet, cheering and cheering again, and the demonstration was renewed when he rose to speak and continued with even greater vigor as he concluded what must be ranked as one of his greatest speeches. The cheers told of esteem and confidence in the man who is leading the people of British Columbia to victory, whose demeanor and utterances last night stamped him as a man of the kind that premiers are made of. Conservatives were heard after the meeting drawing a sharp comparison between Mr. Oliver's dignified attitude and courteous treatment of the electorate and the boorish, demagogic exhibition of Premier McBride on his return to this city.

The other speakers of the evening were A. J. Morley and W. K. Houston, both of whom were well received and made excellent speeches. Mr. Morley proposed the referendum as a safeguard for the people against such contracts as that proposed by the McBride-Bowser outfit and the other candidates expressed concurrence. Mr. Houston characterized the premier as a gambler, staking all on a last throw, but conscious that he was going to lose.

A. B. McNeill, who was chairman, reminded the audience that within forty-eight hours the province would know whether McBride or Morley was to remain premier of British Columbia or whether another Oliver was to say, as a farmer once did to the Long parliament, "Get you gone and give way to honest men." From every part of the province came the brightest reports. Those who attended a Conservative meeting in that hall last Saturday and then went to another Conservative meeting in the A.O.T.W. hall, where the meeting itself and the chief actor in it by his conduct even spelled victory for the Liberal party. Principal J. M. Campbell explained the local option vote, pointing out that the people were asked simply to express their opinion on the giving of the right to municipalities to vote for or against the granting of licenses.

A. J. Morley, Ex-Mayor Morley was the first candidate to speak and he was accorded a very gratifying reception. Mr. Morley said he had a proposition to make, as promised last week, of a policy which would prevent the spoliation of natural resources which has been going on for so long. These resources, if properly handled by an honest and business-like government, would bring in a revenue which would forever provide for the necessities of government of the province, for educational facilities far beyond what are now available, for efficient transportation and to maintain conditions which would ensure industrial prosperity. It would be the duty of the incoming government to reform the land laws that the available agricultural lands would not be passed out to speculators but could be had by genuine settlers who would cultivate and help to add to the wealth of the province. The government must also see that the great resources like timber, coal, iron and water-powers must not be allowed to be monopolized and held at prohibitive prices from the consumers.

Dealing with railways Mr. Morley said his system was that in whatever way the people assisted in railway building the assistance must come back in return as to capital, interest on capital and a fair share of profits, the almost universal method of dealing with public utilities. The province was on the eve of a change of government. Its death-knell was sounded by the premier himself last Saturday night. The government stood self-condemned—first, by its notorious railway proposition; second, by its treatment of the best cabinet ministers; third, by the way in which it had turned traitor to the party supporting it by suddenly reversing that party's policy in regard to the assistance of railways.

The referendum. Mr. Morley's suggestion to secure to the people a guarantee that its future governments would not make mistakes was that of the adoption of the referendum. He commended the action of the legislature in enacting that cities could not give any rights or favors to any companies or corporations until the matter had been submitted to the ratepayers. The same wise restriction, he said, should be applied to the legislature itself, and all grants of aid to railways or other corporations should be submitted to the people for ratification after being discussed in the legislature. Then would the province have what it has not yet had, government for the people. Fortunately for the province it had at this time a man in the person of John Oliver who was fitted to inaugurate such a great reform.

Mr. Morley referred to the humorist of the junior Matson organ, who ridiculed him as a reformer and assured the electors that "the boys who tunnel through are the ones that get there." This, as Mr. Morley pointed out, was a reflection on the political friends of the writer, while perfectly truthful in the dark and shunned the light. The McBride government and those interested in the contract were trying to hang on to power by "tunnel" methods. For himself, Mr. Morley said, his record was open and he had nothing to be ashamed of. To a questioner at this point he said he was an independent, and would always remain an independent, but he supported the Liberal party because through them he hoped to see enacted legislation which he deemed to be of the utmost importance to the people. With him the interests of the people would always stand paramount, not corporate interests, and if he ever failed to stand for them he would not wait to be turned down but would turn himself down. It was in the hands of the people to say what they wanted. If they wanted a mixed government, a crooked government, they would mix the tickets split their vote, if they wanted a cabinet that would give them government of the people by the people and for the people, they would vote solid for the four candidates who stood for the Liberal policy—Oliver, Drury, Houston and Morley. (Cheers.)

W. K. Houston called on the electors who might feel bound by the shackles of a machine-led party to shake themselves free and vote as before their conscience and their God. As for Mr. Morley's proposition he looked upon it as but an extension of the sound principle of government of the people, by the people, for the people, and if it would prevent boodles and graft he would certainly vote for it.

The premier, one would have thought, would have returned from his tour with a clear, clarion note to rouse his followers; one would have thought he had by this time attained some clear ideal of what was due in a premier of a great province.

"To my mind," continued Mr. Houston, "it was quite evident at that meeting on Saturday night that the premier has come to the conclusion that he is a beaten man. (Cheers.) During the six years he has been premier he has simply been playing the game, having got in to stay in, by every means in his power, legitimate and illegitimate. He sees that the game is up at last. His speech shows him as a gambler staking his last die on the throw for power. What do you think of his treatment of the electors whose votes he appeals for, calling them cattle? What sort of man does he take you for, putting up the candidates he does for you to vote for here? His speech was that of a gambler, a gambler, a man about to be hurled from power. (Cheers.) What sort of intelligence does he give you credit for, telling you and expecting you to believe that since his policy was announced real estate values have gone up 50 per cent? (Laughter.) I do not gauge the temper of the electors of Victoria and of this province aright if you will return such men." (Cheers.)

Mr. Houston reminded the electors, in reply to the Colonist misrepresentations, that every Liberal candidate was in favor of the building of the Victoria & Barkley Sound railway, that it was announced by John Oliver as a part of the Liberal railway policy before there was any word of a government policy. According to the premier's statements that railway was to be part of a trans-continental line, but was it? If the Canadian Northern came to the coast no one could doubt that its terminals would be at Vancouver, and not at Victoria. Where was there to be any terminal here? If on this island at all must it not be at Barkley Sound, which was declared to be at the end of a trans-continental line? The likelihood of the C. P. R. being behind Mackenzie & Mann was hinted at, and significant circumstances in that direction pointed out. Mr. Houston said that before it would get a road through British Columbia completed its total indebtedness would have reached one hundred millions, and in accordance with the usual practice common stock would be issued to the same amount. That stock would not have cost Mackenzie & Mann one dollar, while their road would have been built out of the proceeds of government guaranteed bonds and subsidies. Let it be whispered around that the C. P. R. was about to acquire the system and where did that go? Away up. That was the prize that was dangling before some eyes near home and others further away. Dealing with Mr. Houston said:

"I have invested some money in that line with the hope that I would help to develop a rich portion of this island, and perhaps get some financial return. But I tell you that rather than this line should become party of this gamble I would lose every cent I have in it. (Cheers.) They tell you that the C. N. R. have surveyors out on the route. It is absolutely untrue. The only people who are surveying are ourselves. And I can assure you that Mackenzie & Mann have not got the Victoria & Barkley Sound charter. We still hold it." (Applause.)

The Leader's Speech. Mr. Oliver expressed his thanks once more to the electors who had been good enough to ask him to be a candidate here. The Premier had stated a desire to see every opponent lose his deposit. For himself that thought was not going to keep him from sleeping. The Premier had come back from addressing 20,000 people, but the enthusiasm which he claimed had everywhere greeted him did not seem to have agreed with his temper. (Laughter and applause.)

"I last spoke from this platform," said Mr. Oliver, "I also have spoken to 20,000 people, and I can assure you I have never met with such an enthusiastic reception from the people of British Columbia as I have done during the trip into the interior of the province and also on Vancouver Island during this present campaign. (Cheers.)—I am not going to emulate the boasting of the Premier as to what is going to happen on election day. I believe it good policy first, last and all the time when coming before the electors to lay before them the facts to the best of your ability and the full extent of your knowledge. I am not going to assume divine power of knowing the mind of every man.

"The people are listening attentively to the facts. It is a very hopeful sign when you see people listening to and reading public statements by public men. I can tell you that as far as it is possible to judge from appearances I have never seen such a drawing together of men of all shades of political opinion as there has been since the announcement of this railway policy of the McBride government.

"I am happy to say to you to-night that it is not a question of Liberalism or Conservatism, it is a question of the preservation of the rights of the people. I am going to assume, as I think you are going to assume, that in the minds of both Liberals and Conservatives there is a desire that the interests of the people of British Columbia are to be protected; that there is a strong feeling through the ballot-box, that the interests of the people are not being safeguarded by the McBride government." (Cheers.)

Incompatible Statements. Mr. Oliver called attention to the variations in the statements as to the contract which have taken place since the first announcement. Between that announcement and the statement of the Premier on Saturday night there was little resemblance. Of Mr. Morley's proposition he said the principle could not be disputed. There might be a question as to how it could be worked out, but no statesman could hesitate to place his policies before the people for them to say yes or no to. If it was the wish of the people that questions affecting the welfare of the province for all future time should be submitted to them for approval before being crystallized into law it would always have his support. (Cheers.)

The business of the country should be conducted on business lines. Just as on a smaller scale all municipal business was disposed of. The province was being cursed by a partyism which would swallow any wild proposition because it came from the party.

Stands for Public Welfare. "That is not for the welfare of the people, and in all my public life I have always put the interests of the people before any political party. (Cheers.) I have no use for any section that wants to tie the province up for generations for a little local advantage. We have no right to hamper the province through reckless, improvident, wild and unconsidered contracts. (Cheers.)

"I really think the Premier ought to take a little rest and settle his mind as to what he does mean," said Mr. Oliver, discussing the Premier's many divergent statements. The audience roared at the implied suggestion that a rest from the cares of office would help the Premier.

"Premier McBride is scarcely in a mental condition to govern this province," said the leader, to which the audience gave instant endorsement.

The electors were left to ponder over the probability of a day of reckoning for the province over the C.N.R. $21,000,000 guarantee when on small guarantee it has already paid at the rate of $1,000 a mile on the Shuswap & Okanagan, $3,000 a mile on the Nanaimo & Skeena and $5,000 a mile on the

It will be observed that Messrs. John Oliver and Drury voted for Local Option and Premier McBride and his party DEFEATED Local Option.

The four candidates in Victoria pledged to support Local Option are Messrs. JOHN OLIVER, DRURY, HOUSTON and MORLEY.

What is Local Option?

It is simply an extension of the principle of local self-government. A Local Option law when placed upon the Statute Book has no force or effect until it has received the sanction of the people wherever submitted. It is simply a means whereby the voice of the people can be heard. It simply gives the right to every man to vote for or against licensed bar-rooms or to vote for or against a proposal to reduce their number in any municipality.

Because of the vote given by Messrs. John Oliver and Drury in the Legislature in favor of the people exercising a constitutional right, and because Messrs. John Oliver, Drury, Houston and Morley stand pledged to again support this principle they have arrayed against them in this election the solid opposition of the saloon and liquor interests.

The issue is clear and plain:

- There is no mistaking the issue.
- There is no mistaking the facts.
- There is no mistaking the position of the candidates.

DO WOMEN OR MEN LIVE THE LONGEST? It is Believed That the Weaker Sex Take More Care.

Why is it that the excess of male mortality is so high? That is what the Chicago health department has set itself to find out, with the result that it has issued a series of instructions for the "mere male" by which he is able to prolong his life and to benefit his health. It is believed that woman lives longer because she takes better care of herself. Well, there is one thing about it, she has more time. It may be that when suffragism comes into play the mortality table of the female may rise. However, these are the instructions which the department gives and Canadians may like to set to work at once and carry them out. It may be that insurance companies will give a rebate on their premiums to those who are conscientiously carrying them out. The department says:

"Chief among the reasons for an excessive mortality among adult males from the impure air diseases are the following:

"Men more commonly frequent vilely-ventilated and therefore grossly insanitary places, than women—such as smoking cars, the air of which is reeking with tobacco smoke and the floors are soaked with sputum that swarms with the germs of disease.

"Men are more prone to insist upon 'nice, warm' sleeping quarters, at the expense of proper ventilation and pure air.

"Men have the habit of over-eating to a greater extent than women, and of then going into the cold air with their systems choked in an effort to dispose of overloaded stomachs. Congestions that arise after over-eating are fertile soil for the development of the germs of pneumonia.

"Men much more frequently suffer from the ill effects of over-indulgence in alcoholic drinks. The harmful effects are much the same as come from over-indulgence of food.

"Men are more generally exposed to the dangers of employment than women—employment that subjects the worker to sudden and pronounced changes of temperature.

"Men—more often than women—are 'draught cranks.' They demand warm quarters and insist upon having them at the expense of pure air to breathe. In other words, men add to themselves more than women do.

"The rules of health that males must follow more generally than they do now are these:

"1. Avoid any ventilated and foul smoking cars.

"2. Keep your bedroom windows open at night.

"3. Don't over-eat. This is a particularly dangerous practice in winter.

"4. Avoid over-indulgence in alcoholic drinks.

"5. Don't go into the cold air in an over-heated condition.

"6. Don't be a draught crank. If you wouldn't coddle yourself so much you would get purer air to breathe and your chances of avoiding pneumonia would be much better."

SOME POINTS TO REMEMBER.

Large hats are the rule for evening wear.

Sleeves have a decidedly fuller tendency.

Silks are more prominent than for many winters.

The waist line has been lowered, but the tiniest bit.

Embroidery appears on many of the charming new stockings.

The furless gown has seen its best days and is on the wane.

Tight-fitting and stiffly-boned basques are again imminent.

Contrasting facings are a feature of the latest winter hats.

The daintiest new hatpins are headed with Irish crochet lace.

Lace trimmings on hats will be combined with much furry material.

Eyelet embroidery has more or less taken the place of net for bouffes.

Small bows are replacing the large ones for tying the young girls' hair.

Glace gloves will be worn more than the suede with evening costumes this season.

Jet trimming upon frocks of sapphire hue is one of the many variations of the hour.

After many years of hard service, the pompadour has gone completely out of style.

Tassels are being used even more extensively than last season for trimming dressy gowns.

It is expected that there will be a gradual return to the elbow sleeve for lingerie-waists.

The long velvet and fur coats so popular last winter have survived for the new season.

Waistcoats of plain satin or ottoman silk are appearing with the coming of the real winter.

Many of the new coats are lined with silk of the same shade. White is not used as formerly.

The ruffs made of chiffon and ribbon are most serviceable if on a foundation of crinoline.

A checked silver and black enamel button is used on a handsome tailored suit of shepherd plaid.

Heavy ribbed ottoman and moire silks are being used for the construction of the separate coats.

The touch of vivid color across the front of the waist is one of the latest of costume details.

For afternoons, stockings to match the boots are always correct.

The lavish use of fur on both evening and day gowns is one of the most striking features of the season.

The sailor collar effect is found not only on the long separate coats, but on some of the new wraps as well.

White beavers are among the most fashionable of evening hats. Frequently they are faced with black velvet.

Long feathers are not as fashionable as short ones, but the flues of all plumes must be long and heavy.

CARE OF OLD GLASS.

Antique glass which does not require mending but is dim and lustreless may be made to shine and sparkle once more if it is washed in water to which a little ammonia has been added. Soap-suds spell ruination to crystal ware, while drying it with a duster only serves to dim it still more. After having rinsed and left it to soak in ammonia water, using a soft brush if the glass is cut into facets and the dirt has caught in the squares, the article should be placed in a box and covered with sawdust. After an hour it will be found that the wood dust has dried the glass and gives it a bright lustre. The old-fashioned cut-crystal decanters which are so much used now-a-days become almost hopelessly discolored when they have held old port or any wine which leaves a deposit. To clean them, an old-fashioned remedy is that of finely chopped potato skins, with which the decanter should be filled, and a cork inserted in the mouth in place of the stopper. This should be left for three days for the skins to ferment, when it should be well shaken, emptied and rinsed with clean water. The decanter should either be reversed and left to drain for a day or two, or may be dried more expeditiously at the side of the stove.

GRAND OPERA SINGERS.

Important Company Coming to Victoria Theatre on Saturday Night.
Next Saturday at the Victoria theatre the English Grand Opera Singers will appear. The company consists of eight people: an operatic quartette and four solo instrumentalists, who give selections from standard light and grand opera in costume. Each member of this party is young and is chosen for individual merit and for their artistic value to the programme as a whole. The programme is shared equally, there being no star and no inferior supporting members.

Practically all operatic compositions have one or two numbers that become instantly popular and make the opera a success. The programme of this organization will consist entirely of these choice selections from the best of the opera. The quartette from "Rigoletto," the sextette in "Lucia di Lammermoor," the famous trio from "Faust," and the impressive "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore"; enlivened by the company quartettes from "Mikado," "The Felska," "The Country Girl," "The Burgomaster," "The Merry Widow," and other musical successes, constitute the operatic first part.
The second part will consist of the entire second act of "Marius"—the most tender of all English operas. This act can be sung by four people, and contains much comedy in addition to the musical gems: "The Last Rose of Summer," "The Spinning Song," and the "Goodnight" quartette.
The programme of this organization has been happily described as "not so popular as to be musically cheap, and not so severely classical as not to be popular."

WATERWAY RIGHT TO THE ROCKIES

SIR WILFRID'S ATTRACTIVE SCHEME

Thinks Vessels of Thousand Tons Will Ply From Lake Superior Westward.

(Special to the Times.) Ottawa, Nov. 24.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, replying this morning to a large deputation representing Great Lake ports and marine interests, which urged the deepening of the Welland canal to 20 feet, said the government favored the project and would vote money as soon as Hon. Mr. Fielding said the country could afford the necessary twenty millions of dollars to do it.

The Premier said he believed in the possibility of a through water route from Lake Superior to the foot of the Rockies via Rainy river and Lake Saskatchewan river, capable of accommodating vessels of a thousand tons. The first steps were now being taken by making Saskatchewan river navigable from Edmonton to Winnipeg.

APPEAL FOR TROOPS.

Sheriff Declares Deputies Cannot Maintain Order as Result of Quarrymen's Strike.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24.—Governor Marshall to-day received a request from Sheriff Todd, of Lawrence county, for troops to be sent to Bedford. The message stated that conditions were so bad there as a result of the quarrymen's strike that the present force of deputies was insufficient to keep order.

ATTEMPT TO BURN FAMILY TO DEATH

Man, His Wife and Six Children Have Narrow Escape.

Couer D'Alene, Ida., Nov. 24.—Residents of this city are greatly aroused to-day over an attempt to burn the residence occupied by B. F. Lafferty, his wife and six children, one only 13 days old. Lafferty was awakened in an upstairs room by dense smoke pouring through the cracks of the unplastered walls, and seeing two children who were sleeping in the room with him he staggered downstairs, where he awakened the other members of the family. An investigation revealed the fact that a bed quilt had been saturated with kerosene and placed on a projecting sill and ignited, directly under the room where Mrs. Lafferty and her infant were sleeping. No trace of the perpetrators of the outrage had been found. The fire department easily extinguished the flames.

VANGUARD'S SPEED TRIAL.

Plymouth, Nov. 24.—The new British Dreadnought Vanguard completed an eight hour trial last night in which she attained 22 1/2 knots an hour, a knot in excess of the admiralty's stipulation.

OVER HUNDRED MORE BODIES RECOVERED

Found by Rescuers in the Lowest Level of Illinois Mine.

(Times Leased Wire.) Cherry, Ill., Nov. 24.—A summary of the disaster at the St. Paul mine here shows that 314 men were in the mine when the fire started.

Of this number it is estimated that 200 men escaped from the mine on the day the fire broke out. Last Saturday 30 men were taken alive from the mines. With the 101 dead bodies already recovered and the 102 bodies found in the lowest level to-day, 24 bodies are still unaccounted for.

There is still some confusion concerning the exact number of bodies found to-day in the ill-fated mine.

Near the spot where the miners reported that they had come across at least 80 bodies a slat was found upon which the following had been written: "We die together, 169."

It is quite possible that the writer's check number was 169, although the miners believe that the message on the slat indicates that 169 men perished in the lowest level.

No attempts have been made to-day to remove any bodies.

A serious situation was developed at the St. Paul mine this afternoon by a fire on the second level eating its way through the stables and attacking the cribbing and main-hoisting shaft. A score of rescuers on the lowest level were endangered by the fire.

STORM SWEEPS NEW ENGLAND COAST

Number of Vessels Have Been Driven Ashore—Sailors in Danger.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Plymouth, Mass., Nov. 24.—Lashed by the worst storm that has swept the New England coast for over a year, a big three-masted schooner, name unknown, but which is one of a fleet owned by the Gilbert Transportation Company, is ashore on Stevens' Flat, in this harbor. The lives of ten men who are aboard the vessel are threatened. The schooner is loaded with stone.

Every boat in the harbor except two have been piled on the beach by the storm and some of these have been badly battered. Another Schooner Ashore. Portland, Me., Nov. 24.—The two-masted schooner Pinky, blown ashore in this harbor by the force of the storm which is sweeping the New England coast, is being battered to pieces by the surf this afternoon. Many small craft are reported wrecked along the Maine coast.

A lively show and a good one, with every number on the programme enjoyable and including the following special features: Biff and Bang, the "crazy comedians and suicidal acrobats"; Dick De Loris, high-class musician and entertainer; Dan and Bessie Kelly, presenting a breezy comedy, "The Irish Politician"; Misses Coleman and Herndon, violin duettists; Arthur Elwell, descriptive ballad, and a double set of funny moving pictures, is pleasing Pentage patrons this week.

BOWSER DRIVEN INTO A CORNER

STILL FIGHTING ROSS AT LONG RANGE

Audience Grows Restless and Urges "The Dread Ross" to Drop Personalities.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Nov. 24.—The storm of contemptuous indignation which Mr. Bowser's first reply to the charges of Duncan Ross, made at a meeting in North Vancouver the other evening, has aroused in this city has been felt even by the great Bowser himself. Last evening in the Orange hall he attempted to wriggle out of it by asserting that "he had not been correctly reported." He stammered as he said it, evidently believing that in truth he had been correctly reported. Then in an effort to overcome any sentimental aroused, rushed in a defiant assertion of the right of any firm to take legal business from any Japanese or Japanese companies.

It is recalled that the attorney-general was charged by Duncan Ross with having been the legal representative of one Gotoh, a Japanese labor contractor, engaged in the business of supplying Asiatic laborers to such companies as might require them, while at the same time he occupied an office, which entailed looking after the interests of the people of this province. Gotoh's business was in direct transgression of the treaty laws formulated between Great Britain and Japan. Bowser's reply to this charge, in the first instance, was that his partners had first entered into the agreement with Gotoh to handle legal business, but that when he (Bowser) had found out about it he had severed his connection.

In reply to separate charges made by Duncan Ross, Bowser produced what purported to be an affidavit from Gotoh to the effect that Bowser was innocent of knowing what kind of business Gotoh was engaged in. And this proof of Bowser's innocence was introduced right after Bowser had admitted that he was Gotoh's solicitor during several years.

The attorney-general's reputation on the whole consisted of virulent personal abuse of Duncan Ross. Another amazing declaration of Mr. Bowser was that the famous contract with Gotoh had been drawn up in the C. P. R. offices by Gotoh himself, and that he (Gotoh) had inserted the clause referring to a Canadian statute himself.

Assuredly, as one man remarked after the meeting, one Gotoh "must have been a well educated Japanese to draw up a contract in exact legal phraseology, and also to have the astuteness to insert a clause from Canadian statutes."

Several times during the course of the speech members of the audience called out to him, "Quit indulging in personalities and talk about the railway policy." Its weakness had been so often and so effectively shown up by the opposition candidates that the audience seemed to be of the opinion that the attorney-general should show some of the virtues. This, however, he was unable to do. The only reference he made to it at all, in fact, was at the end of the meeting, when he exclaimed, "This great railway policy of ours."

THE VOTE.

Place—Transfer Stables, Brighton street. Hours—8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

GIRL WHO SHOT SWEETHEART IS FREE

Is Acquitted by Jury on the Grounds of Insanity.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 24.—Alma Bell, who killed her lover Joe Ames, is free to go her way.

In just one hour and fifteen minutes the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal. Three ballots were taken. On the first eight stood for acquittal, one for manslaughter and one for second degree murder, while two did not vote. On the second ballot there were ten votes for acquittal and two for manslaughter. On the third ballot all were unanimous for acquittal, on the ground of insanity.

Despite the warning of Judge Arnot that any person who started a demonstration when the verdict should be announced would be arrested, there was a suppressed exclamation of approval from the crowded court room which was promptly frowned down.

LATHAM'S FLIGHT.

Berri, France, Nov. 24.—Hubert Latham is safe at Chalons to-day after having made a trip in a monoplane from that place yesterday for the purpose of joining a hunting party upon the invitation of Marquis de Poligna. Latham flew the 19 miles in 30 minutes, and when his monoplane settled down near the hunting lodge the aviator stepped forth, gun in hand, ready for the sport.

The hunt proved successful and Latham boarded his aeroplane at sunset and began the return journey to Chalons.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Singleton-Wise, of Saanich, are spending the week end in this city.

F. J. Blittcourt is in town and is registered at the King Edward hotel.

CONSERVATIVES ARE DESERTING IN SQUADS

Carter Cotton Will Lose Richmond and Forrest to Win Comox.

A letter just received from a prominent resident of North Vancouver says: "Will the Victoria people see through the game or will they, as always in the past, bite at a railway bait? Carter Cotton is pretty sure to lose Richmond. Conservatives are dissatisfied with him and with the policy of the government, and are bolting in squads."

News from Comox also states that Forrest is sure of winning there, Duncan and Manson, the two Conservative candidates, will split the Conservative vote, and Forrest is an old resident and much respected. He is well known all up the coast among the loggers who in the past have always piled up the Conservative majority.

LIBERAL HEADQUARTERS.

The Liberal Committee room throughout to-morrow will be on the corner of Fort and Broad streets, opposite Copas & Young's grocery in the office recently occupied by Howard Potts as a real estate office. There the workers will meet throughout the day and information in regard to the coming election will be given to those who have not voted as yet. The great interest taken in the contest insures that a very large vote will be polled. Both sides are working hard and from all information received the Liberal party, after having gone carefully through the lists and from all information received, feels confident that their candidates will be elected by a substantial majority. At the same time they urge upon the workers and all those who wish to see clean government in the province to get out and vote early and to bring in all their friends. Any Liberals wishing to have any voter sent for should leave word at the committee rooms.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

M. A. McDonald Meets With Enthusiastic Reception at Cranbrook.

(Special to the Times.)

Cranbrook, B. C., Nov. 24.—Every vestige of doubt as to the outcome of to-morrow's election in Cranbrook riding was wiped out last night when M. A. McDonald, Liberal candidate, held the final rally in the auditorium. To offset the Liberal's arranged a free concert, but despite a lavish distribution of cigars and other luxuries, Mr. McDonald's meeting was crowded to the doors and for upwards of two hours he held the large audience literally spell-bound, save for frequent outbursts of irrepressible applause as he dealt with the arguments advanced by the apologists of the McBride railway policy at a meeting held here since his opening address to electors. Beyond all question last night's Liberal meeting was the greatest and most enthusiastic political gathering ever held in Cranbrook.

Mr. McDonald convinced even the most skeptical that he is the only possible candidate to represent this seat at Victoria. The electors of Cranbrook were made to realize they have the opportunity of electing a man who would be a credit in every respect to the district, and that he will be elected in to-day freely conceded to be a foregone conclusion.

TAYLOR WORKING HARD.

Member for New Westminster Busy Trying to Manufacture Political Thunder.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—Sir W. Laurier replying to J. D. Taylor, of New Westminster, in the House of Commons this afternoon said that "any recommendations" were received by the government from the executive of the Liberal Association of British Columbia or from any other political organization, urging the appointment of Mr. P. C. Wade as Lieut.-Governor, they would be considered as of a private character and not as public property. They therefore would not be communicated to a further query from Mr. Taylor, who asked if the government regarded the office of Lieut.-Governor as one in which the jurisdiction of a patronage committee is recognized. Taylor replied that the question was one which could not be understood as applying to any recognized principle of government.

POWER PLANT IDLE.

Number of Factories Closed and Winnipeg's Street Car Service is Curtailed.

(Special to the Times.)

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 24.—Nothing positive is known this afternoon as to when the Lac du Bonnet power plant will be running again, but there appears little likelihood that it will be in operation to-day, and possibly not for several days. As a consequence a number of mills and factories are idle, and that many men are thrown out of employment. While the Assiniboine steam plants of the company in at present concentrated on the street-car service, it has proved incapable of maintaining more than partial and intermittent service. Local newspapers, dependent on the company's power, are having their troubles, but the Free Press, which has its own power plant, has come generously to the rescue, and in addition to printing this morning's Telegram, is to-day setting up the Tribune. Outgoing trains this morning were crowded with suburbanites for such points as Selkirk and Headingley, who were held in over night. Fortunately the weather turned from severe to mild last evening.

SEVEN PERISH IN FIRE IN BROOKLYN

TEN OTHERS SUSTAIN SERIOUS INJURIES

Panic Stricken Men and Women Leap From Windows

(Times Leased Wire.)

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Six persons, two women, a man and three small children, were burned to death, ten persons were injured, one fatally, and one woman is missing as a result of a tenement house fire in Haven's Place early to-day. The ruins of the structure are being searched to ascertain if there are other bodies in the ashes.

The place was occupied by eight families, although intended only to house four families.

When the blaze started in the basement, the lodgers became frightened and began firing off revolvers from their windows. A panic was the result, and unable to escape down the blazing narrow stairway, many of the occupants jumped from the windows. One woman, Mrs. Rosemont Forte, leaped from a window after tossing her one-year-old baby into the crowd below. The baby was caught by a man and unharmed. The woman will die from the effects of her fall.

Scores of persons were rescued by the firemen who carried them down ladders. Among them was Mrs. Rose Caravilla. Upon reaching the street, the woman broke frantically from the grasp of her rescuers and ran screaming back into the flaming frame building for her two children. Her body was found later lying between the dead forms of her babies for whom she sacrificed her life in a vain effort to save.

The police assert that fully 100 persons were in the tenement when the fire broke out.

BRITISH LIBERAL LEADERS TO MEET

Will Outline Plans for the Coming General Election.

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, Nov. 24.—An immediate meeting of the leaders of the Liberal party for the purpose of outlining a campaign as the result of the budget crisis arising from Lord Lansdowne's motion in the House of Lords, was called at the prolonged meeting of the cabinet to-day.

It is generally believed to-day in parliamentary circles that the House of Commons will be prorogued as early as next Tuesday. This means that the budget will be submitted to the people much earlier than expected, quite likely during the first week of the year.

WILLAMETTE RIVER CONTINUES TO RISE

Damage by Floods in Valley Will Probably Total $50,000.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Portland, Ore., Nov. 24.—Fifty thousand dollars is the estimated toll which residents of the Willamette valley will pay for the high waters of the last few days according to reports received up to noon. Logging industries and farmers are the heavy losers.

Fed by melting snows in the Cascade mountains and heavy rains the Willamette river is still rising and its tributaries in the Willamette valley have overflowed their banks. The Willamette stood at 25 feet and 3 inches at Salem at noon to-day.

It is not expected that much more damage will be caused by the high water as the rains have ceased and the weather has turned cooler. Although the Willamette and Columbia rivers are expected to rise for a day or so, it is not thought that the rise will be sufficient to do much further damage.

In Washington.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 24.—The floods and windstorms that have swept this part of the northwest for the past three days are over and by to-night train and telegraph service will have been brought back to almost a normal condition. Several Great Northern passenger trains, which were tied up in the Cascade mountains, have all been de-loured by the Northern Pacific to Spokane. The passengers suffered little from shortage of food on the dining cars, while the trains were held up and they arrived at Spokane in good spirits this afternoon.

THE HINTON ELECTRIC CO., LTD. GOVERNMENT ST., VICTORIA, B.

CONSERVATIVES HOLD SMOKER COLD RECEPTION MET AT A. O. U. W. HALL

H. B. Thompson, as Agent in Timber Deal, Gets Commission.

At twenty minutes after eight last night Leonard Tait, after having prosecuted a search for speakers and others to occupy the platform chairs, mounted the platform at the A. O. U. W. hall to open the Conservative smoker, accompanied by H. B. Thompson, Henry Behnisch and two others. This five sat among the empty chairs while the pianist played a solo, and then Herbert Cuthbert was offered a seat on the platform, and he rounded up three more.

The chairman made a few remarks which failed to cause a sensation, so the moving picture machine was got out and an attempt made to interest the audience, which was by no means crowded together in the hall. The moving picture machine that was supposed to show San Francisco fire, refused to work at a Conservative meeting. Three operators took a hand at it, but all they could get was a crooked streak of light and faint glimmers on the curtain. The audience decided to laugh and did so, when the chairman ordered the lights turned out and the moving picture outfit said "set these honors," and it got.

For those who believe in omens, and such signs, appearing just before election time, the information is given that it was the 23rd night of the month, there were exactly 23 chairs on the platform (not all filled), and the programme consisted of exactly thirteen numbers.

Henry Behnisch was introduced and he told the audience that the movement would be returned with a tremendous majority, but from the scant clapping in the hall the opinion didn't seem to be at all unanimous, so Mr. Behnisch went on to tell about some iron properties which Liberals think can be better opened up with John Oliver's road than by Mackenzie & Mann's promises. These iron properties are on the Island between Victoria and Barkley Sound. Mr. Behnisch painted a word picture of industries on the Island that will surely result when the railway is built either by John Oliver or anyone else.

Then Mr. Tait spoke. He said Fred Davey had a cold and wouldn't be there to address the audience. He apologized for Mr. Davey, and started in to fill the breach with a speech that went on for some time. He said that the C. N. V. had done for Manitoba a word picture of industries on the Island that will surely result when the railway is built either by John Oliver or anyone else.

When Mr. Tait had seen these gentlemen properly seated, he told of great timber forests between Victoria and Alberni and spoke of the necessity for development, saying railways would give the desired boon.

Mr. Carson rendered a solo. "We will now have a few remarks by Herbert Cuthbert," said the chairman, and there was some applause from the platform, but none from the hall. Mr. Cuthbert said he should have been given notice that he was to speak to an intelligent audience, and to fill the breach he told a story, the alleged point being that Mr. Cuthbert's political eye-sight was not good enough to see Honest John Oliver occupying a seat in the next provincial parliament. He also said the Liberals would like to get the province's credit balance to play with, and of course urged every one to vote for the candidates. John Oliver he said was an untried man, and it wouldn't be right to let an untried man take the management of British Columbia's affairs.

LORD CROMER AND POWER OF LORDS

WILL NOT VOTE TO REJECT THE BUDGET Declares Peers Have Not Right to Throw Out or Block Measure.

London, Nov. 24.—Further complications in the budget situation developed yesterday when Lord Cromer, former consul-general of Egypt, a prominent Conservative, declared he would not support Lord Lansdowne and a majority of the House of Lords in a rejection of the budget. Lord Cromer declared the Lords had not the right, either to reject the budget or to block its passage. His speech will undoubtedly swing many moderates from the support of Lansdowne, but will not affect the result, as the deserters will simply refrain from voting.

The Liberal government done forever with the present state of things and that the constitution and character of the House of Lords must be modified, was the warning to the peers by Lord Pentland, secretary for Scotland, in the debate last night. Lord Pentland gave another indication of the government's policy. His warning that the House of Commons could not be expected to find a way out of the difficulty should the budget be rejected, created the greatest interest in the lobbies of the House of Commons, which had supposed the government might give way to the Lords in the matter of adopting temporary financial measures to meet the situation arising out of the rejection of the bill.

Many Liberal members of parliament had, in fact, expressed their determination to oppose any bill authorizing the continuance of existing taxation until after the dissolution of parliament. Lord Pentland also reminded the House of Lords that a long constitutional struggle might handicap the country in case of war, and asked the peers to consider whether the penalty might not be disproportionate to the offence.

Earl Russell predicted that the adoption of the Lansdowne resolution to reject the budget would start a revolution that would sooner or later bring a re-adjustment that would leave the House of Lords powerless. Lord Avebury strongly criticized the budget. He declared that it would frighten capital out of the country, cripple enterprise and create a feeling of insecurity.

What Other People Think ANOTHER CONSERVATIVE'S OPINIONS. To the Editor:—Stick to your colors. What need is there to guarantee bonds for Mackenzie & Mann to such an extent? Right of way and a small subsidy or small guarantee should be sufficient. It is all very fine to say the finances of the province are in a good position and a goodly amount in the bank to the credit of the province. Then, sir, why not pay some of our indebtedness and reduce taxation? We stood the raise Hon. Mr. Tatlow put on us, but now we have recovered our financial standing why endanger it again by going security for Mackenzie & Mann's security of £1,000,000—its outrageous and reckless. Why did the two most efficient ministers leave the ship? Did they foresee the wreck coming? And again what need to assist Mackenzie & Mann to the extent Mr. McBride proposes? They have been subsidized or guaranteed to the Rocky Mountains by other provinces, to the boundary of British Columbia. Then is it to be supposed Mackenzie & Mann will stop there? Guarantee or no guarantee, I should not propose to "hold them up," so to speak. "For they must come to the coast for their own sakes." The £1,000,000 is out of all reason. We have the result of assisting railroads. Look at the amount paid by the city and the government for the V. & S. R. R. Why, sir, the amount the city and the government would have built the road, and a better one. I am a Conservative, but cannot support the railroad policy of Mackenzie & Mann.

AN OLD CONSERVATIVE. A STRONG APPEAL. To the Editor:—Some time ago I asked through your columns for a manly and open declaration from the government candidates as to their standing on the moral issues pending in this election, and I will now give you the result. One of them has given a very preliminary statement that he would not attempt to nullify the wishes of the majority; another one, who is in the liquor business, obtained the signature of one of our leading merchants here to the nomination papers of the "big four," by assuring him that he too was in favor of local option, and this same merchant now laments that his signature was obtained by a false pretence; the third one is an invertebrate, nominally a church member, but silent in this vital question. I sincerely trust that the honest voters belonging to both parties will also be silent when they are asked to support this very politic trio. In justice to Mr. McBride I will say that he has personally assured me that he would give effect to the wishes of the majority; but as yet he has not committed himself about the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act. Now I trust that everyone on the voters' list who has any sympathy with those who

NEWARK MAN'S COLLAPSE

Caused by Dizziness, Biliousness and Pains in the Back. DROPPED IN THE STREET.

Warm weather and acute indigestion were the chief causes of a physical collapse that overtook Mr. J. V. Donaghy near the entrance of the Pennsylvania railroad depot last Thursday. A policeman lifted him into a cab and he was hurried to his home. In an interview next day, Mr. Donaghy stated: "I was practically unconscious when I arrived home. I knew I was in bad shape because for weeks I had been fighting against pains in my back as severe as if I had been shot at. Indigestion and biliousness were the cause of my collapse, and no doubt had been keeping up the headache and dizziness from which I suffered. Fortunately, my wife knew just what I needed. She gave me three of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur and put me to bed. In the morning I was as fresh as a daisy, my system was cleared of its load of poisonous waste and I felt like a new man. From now on, in order to keep my system properly regulated, I will use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. I know many who do so and they never have a day's illness. Why not be healthy, hearty and well? You owe it to yourself, to your family, to your friends. You cannot work properly; you cannot be happy yourself if you are tortured by indigestion, and all the nagging pains and unpleasantness which accompany it. If you are weakened by anaemia—if your blood is being poisoned and your system upset by constipation. If you are suffering from any of these derangements of the system—either temporary or chronic—you should go at once to the nearest chemist and ask him for a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. This perfect tonic-laxative will cure your indigestion, purify and enrich your blood; banish constipation by its natural means; improve your appetite; quiet your nerves, and help you to sleep soundly. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give you strength and vigor. They will help you to work better, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers. Write The Catarthosone Company, Kingston, Ont.

BODY FOUND. New York, Nov. 24.—A clue to the fate of Washington Hull, a Brooklyn architect, who disappeared mysteriously with his yacht, the Commodore, on November 3rd last, was discovered yesterday with the recovery from the waters of Jamaica Bay of the body of the missing yachtsman. The body was recovered in a small boat with Hull on the missing yacht.

TRAGEDY OF A LIGHTED MATCH. Thomas Lightfoot, of Bolton Lowhouse, Cumberland, after lighting a lamp, threw the match away, and on turning round saw his aged wife, who was totally blind, on a miter, rushed in and smothered the flames with his coat. He was severely burnt. Mrs. Lightfoot died from her injuries. Mr. Lightfoot is himself almost blind, and is ninety years of age.

Although the vineyards of Europe have suffered from the bad weather of the year, the Australian wines are of excellent quality and the yield better than in 1908.

NOT ONLY INDIGESTION AND GAS BUT ALL MISERY FROM A BAD STOMACH GOES Relief in Five Minutes Awaits Every Stomach Sufferer in Victoria.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, or you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, or eruptions of sour, indigestible food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

tion. Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapiesin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

SUVERIC TAKING CHINESE HOME

BANK LINER HAS VERY LARGE CARGO

Andrew Weir Not Expected Here for Some Time Yet.

Steamer Suveric, outbound for the Orient, called here this morning for 20 Chinese passengers who are returning to Canton from this port. They will be left at Hongkong and will make the rest of their journey in one of the small coasting craft.

The Suveric has a record cargo of 15,000 tons of mixed cargo, of which 1,200 tons was taken at Vancouver. Speaking of the business between this city and the Orient, Capt. Baird, superintendent of the Bank line, to which the Suveric belongs, said that there was a great deal more freight offered than they could carry. It was his opinion that rates would increase, for at present they were very low.

In regard to the visit of Andrew Weir, Capt. Baird said that he had recently received a letter from him, and that it would be January before he arrived at Manila. It was quite likely that he would meet him at that point and go with him to Singapore and back.

Capt. Baird will remain here to meet the Oceanic, which left Yokohama four days late and is not due until Friday.

BOTH WHALERS TO HUNT IN GULF

Orion Leaving for Page's Lagoon To-morrow to Aid the St. Lawrence.

Steam whaler Orion which has been overhauled in the upper harbor will not return to the West Coast for a little while, but will go out to the station at Page's Lagoon, near Nanaimo, from which base, with the steamer St. Lawrence, the Gulf of Georgia will be cleared of the few whales which may be found there.

Reports from the station indicate that there are not many whales to be found, and not enough are caught to keep the hands employed at the station. For this reason, and because of the bad weather on the West Coast, the Orion is to be sent to hunt in the Gulf for a short time.

MARY WINKELMAN MAY BE LOST

Barquentine Blown Ashore Yesterday in Precarious Condition—Captain Injured.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 24.—American barkentine Mary Winkelman, which was blown ashore yesterday on Point Hudson while attempting to sail out to sea, is in a precarious condition to-day, and unless she is pulled off this afternoon at high tide she will likely become a total loss. The vessel is loaded with half a million feet of lumber and was bound for the Friendly Islands.

In an effort to save his crew in keeping off the shore, Captain Piltz was caught in the anchor tackle, sustaining a crushed right hand and badly injured leg.

HADDON HALL ON MUD. Barque Hauled out at Moodyville for Cleaning and Painting.

Preparations are being made to have the barquentine Haddon Hall, Captain Fooker, taken out on the mud at Moodyville, where she will have her bottom cleaned and painted. The vessel has been lying in the stream for a long time. She arrived at Moodyville on December 14th last year, and after discharging her cargo of general freight went into the stream to await charter. Her bottom has become very foul, and it was thought that she would not be cleaned until a charter had been fixed. She will be towed over to-night or to-morrow.

Steamer Empress of China was last night heard both by the stations at Gonzales Hill and at Estevan. She was calling, Estevan, but they were unable to ascertain her position.

Steamer Leebro arrived this morning from Queen Charlotte Islands and Triangle Island. She has also 1,000 tons of mail, and will be in port several days before again leaving for the North.

FLOODS INTERRUPT RAILWAY TRAFFIC

Number of Bridges in the Cascade Mountains Are Washed Away.

(Times Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Nov. 24.—With the cessation of the heavy rainfall of the past few days it is believed to-day that the worst of the flood situation in the Cascade mountains, which has tied up the Great Northern railroad, is past. Officials of the railroad state, however, that it will probably require a week or ten days to repair the tracks and rebuild the bridges that have been washed out by the mountain torrents.

Meanwhile trains on the western division will be diverted to the Northern Pacific at Spokane.

Several passenger trains on the Great Northern were caught and held by the washouts at different points in the mountains and some anxiety has been expressed for the welfare of the passengers owing to the probable shortage of provisions. The trains have been stalled for more than 24 hours and relief trains are being sent out from Spokane with food supplies for the stranded passengers.

Officials of the company have decided to send no more trains through the Cascade until the present because of the fear of a possible cave-in, and work trains have been sent out from Spokane to repair the damage to the track on the east end of the mountain division. Work trains also are being sent eastward from Everett.

Telegraph wires and poles for several miles through the mountain districts have been carried away by the roaring mountain streams, many of which have overflowed their banks.

Logs Swept to Sea. Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 24.—It is estimated to-day that the logs to loggers on Grays Harbor will total in the neighborhood of $200,000 as a consequence of the high water of the past few days. Fully 19,000 logs have drifted out to sea and many are strewn along the beaches of the lower bay. The heavy wind has blown down hundreds of trees in the woods, and loggers coming out of the camps tell of narrow escapes in avoiding them as they fell.

The loss has been confined mainly to the Chehalis river. Many ranchers along the river had mortgaged their farms to get their logs into the stream and some have even mortgaged the logs themselves, expecting to realize on them to meet their obligations. These will be the greatest sufferers from the high water, although the larger logging companies have sustained heavy losses.

Many Landslides. Butte, Mont., Nov. 24.—The service of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railway, west of Missoula is completely immobilized by landslides, a dozen landslides. Tons of earth and rock have covered the tracks in many places. Freight movement is at a complete standstill.

The Northern Pacific railroad also is encountering great difficulty in operating its trains on account of landslides brought about by the continued rains in the mountains of Western Montana and Idaho.

BIG BILL FOR INJURIES

The Bureau of Railway News and Statistics in its most recently issued leaflet presents some figures bearing upon the amounts that the roads of the United States have to pay for damages and injuries that are not only generally interesting but economically startling. These are based on the latest published reports of the interstate commerce commission. The various lines paid in 1908 and credited to the figures for the same sum of $56,700,000. This is not inaptly characterized as "unproductive tribute." It was certainly a dead loss to the companies, and indirectly, of course, a considerable share, if not the whole of this, is paid by their patrons. Twenty-one roads paid more than two and a half per cent. of their gross earnings in satisfaction of verdicts against them, and those of Texas, that suffered the most serious draft, paid over five per cent.

Steamer Queen sailed this morning for San Francisco with 183 passengers, of whom fifteen joined her at this port. The mail is due here from the south to-morrow night with 125 tons for this port.

Steamer Tymeric of the Australian mail line, is on her way from San Francisco bound to Nanaimo with 1,000 tons of mail. The vessel has also 1,000 tons of cargo from Fiji for Vancouver. When this steamer goes south again she will carry a large cargo of lumber.

STEAMER ST. DENIS HERE FROM NORTH

Heavy Snowstorm at Kitimaat—Salvage Work Proceeding on Hulk Quatsino.

When the steamer St. Denis left Prince Rupert a few days ago southbound the steamer Belle of Spain was hourly expected to discharge tally which she brought from Cape Boston. This is the third cargo taken to that port, and another is on the way.

The St. Denis experienced the usual unpleasant weather in the North. There was a heavy snowstorm at Kitimaat when she was there, and a very strong westerly wind delayed them so much that it took twelve hours to run across from Prince Rupert to Port Simpson. At Swanson Bay the ground was covered with snow.

Swanson Bay pulp works have been busy for some time making pulp for export. There was an order for 100 tons to be shipped on the steamer Captano. This will go to Japan on one of the liners within the next week or two.

Among the passengers on the St. Denis was Captain Butterfield, who went as far as Namu from Prince Rupert, carrying the ballot box for that point. He was to have been taken on to Bella Coola on the tug Swan with the boxes for other places on the coast.

Five thousand cases of salmon were brought south, cleaning up the bulk of the last season's pack.

The coal in the hulk Quatsino was being removed at the time the St. Denis passed. A small tug and scow was at work taking it across to Dundas Island, where it will be later loaded on a large scow and taken to Prince Rupert. It is thought, however, that the heavy north wind must have affected the hulk, which would be exposed to it all.

The St. Denis will not leave for the North until to-morrow night, thus giving the officers and men an opportunity to vote.

TRAIN GONE NORTH TO PRINCE RUPERT

Twenty-four Flatcars and Locomotive Taken on Barge Georgian.

A train of cars has gone North from Vancouver on the barge Georgian for Prince Rupert. A total of 24 flat cars and an engine, the latter weighing 75 tons, are being towed, the Escort being the tug to have the honor of hauling this valuable cargo. The engine brought its own train from the East and will be used on the western section of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The towing of this enormous load through smooth water and for a short distance would be an easy feat for any good tug, but the conveying of it over the open waters of the ocean, through treacherous Queen Charlotte Sound, is a feat which merits recognition for the staunch tug. This tug, by the way, has been doing some wonderfully hard work for the past six years without an accident of any sort. Only last year she took north, on two different trips, over 60,000 feet of lumber on the Georgian, and made the trip to Prince Rupert from Vancouver in three days and one hour. Now when she returns, after leaving the G. T. P.'s rolling stock at its destination, she will have a new boiler installed as a reward for her services.

All told, the MacKenzie Bros. Company, with their barge and staunch tug, are a standard grade winter stock, which will include eight or nine more locomotives.

It is of especial interest to note the manner of loading of the present cars. After the tracks of the barge Georgian are filled up with cars steel rails are laid over the flats in such a way as to form a double deck, on which the remaining cars are loaded.

Barquentine Alta is bound here with nitrate from Iquique.

FORTY-FOOT LAUNCH FOR WEST COAST

Splendid Craft Being Built at Robinson's Yards, Montreal Street.

One of the finest gasoline cruising launches that has been built on this coast is being completed at the foot of Montreal street in this city, at Robinson's boat house. She is being built for P. F. Henderson, who will use her for cruising around the coast carrying timber, cruisers, prospectors, and others who may wish to pass to and fro among the inlets and rivers.

The new launch is 41 feet long with a 10 feet 3 inch beam and will be fitted with Union engines of 20-horse power. She will be able to make about 8 knots and her build will enable her to stand any kind of weather. She is especially adapted for the work on the west coast of Vancouver Island, where heavy seas are common, and a boat of unusually strong build is required.

Turning Things Upside-down IN THE Clothing Business. The past few days has been a busy time for us in our Men's Clothing Department. As previously announced we are selling out our entire line of Men's Suits of the "Proper Clothes" brand—not because they are in any way deficient, but simply because we have secured the agency in Victoria for the best brand of Men's Clothing on the American continent—a brand vastly superior to any line of custom made clothes.

NEW NAVAL BASE.

LONDON. It is stated that a naval base which will have considerable strategic importance is to be created near Scapa Flow, the magnificent natural harbor in the Orkney islands.

The value of this base is that it commands the Pentland Firth, and a fleet stationed there could prevent a hostile fleet from forcing its way into the Atlantic ocean from the North Sea. Scapa Flow lies south of the island of Pomona.

The formation of a base in the Orkneys is in furtherance of the Admiralty policy of concentrating the fleet in the North sea. When it is completed the North sea will be effectively enclosed. Not many years ago the only warships ever seen in northern Scottish waters were an old cruiser or two on fishing duties. Now the Home fleet frequently uses Scapa Flow as a base. Vast works are being carried out at Rosyth, while Dundee is the headquarters of a flotilla of submarines.

It is possible that the Atlantic fleet may eventually go from Dover to the Orkneys, and the Home fleet may go back to Sheerness.

TENNYSON'S CRITICS.

LONDON. The opening meeting of the session of the British Academy at Burlington House was devoted to a celebration of the centenary of Tennyson's birth. Professor Henry Jones read a paper in which he described how Tennyson won the gratitude of his time for gifts apparently alien to the ends of poetry. Speaking of the critic of Tennyson he said it had been stated that the poet touched great things in timid ways, and that his poems lacked range and power and passion. With regard to his attitude to social forces, he was not a Wagner who could set to music the wild cries of the new democracy. He saw only the aesthetic side, and he longed for the old, well-ordered days. Demagogue, leader of the people, was no epithet of honor to him as it ought to have been. It meant one who would bring the old dark ages back again without faith or hope, who would break up church and throne and roll the fragments down the slope. Professor Jones said that on the whole he thought that these criticisms were true, although whether they were only true with the distorted truth of a photograph which was taken out of focus was another question. The two conclusions as to Tennyson which would not be reversed by time were the originality of his artistic touch, and the absolute fidelity of his rendering of his age. Both alike were possessions for ever. (Applause.)

Lord Curzon, in moving a vote of thanks to Professor Jones, said there was a good deal in the professor's paper with which he was not personally in agreement. For instance, he detected in certain portions of the paper an indifference to those conceptions of law and order which played so large a part in the treatment of political questions by Lord Tennyson, and symptoms of sympathies with what the professor described as the demagogue, which, were he not moving a vote of thanks, would gradually have tempted him to enter the lists that evening. Tennyson knew nature almost as no poet except Wordsworth had known it. He knew the outer manifestations, what they might call the garb of nature, perhaps better than Wordsworth. He knew the heart of man and he knew books. It was that catholicity of knowledge, sympathy, and feeling that made Lord Tennyson the poet of all classes.

Proceeding, Lord Curzon said he was once privileged to be the guest of the late Lord Tennyson, and well did he remember an evening when he read to them from his own room. His voice rose and fell with almost uniform regularity, at the end of each phrase it was almost like a Norse king's funeral dirge.

Professor Ker seconded the vote of thanks, which was carried.

SURGEON'S FORTUNE.

LONDON. Sir Thomas Smith, first baronet, K.C.V., the eminent surgeon, who died last month, and whose five years' left estate valued at £101,245 gross, of which £29,765 is net personalty.

He left his medical and surgical books and instruments to such of his sons as are practicing surgery; £10,000, the silver inkstand presented by H. M. the King, the silver salver and claret jug presented to him by his pupils, the silver fruit-basket and gold watch presented to him by his house surgeon, his portrait by Collier, and his silver bowl and goblet in trust to follow the baronetcy; £100 each to his coachman, William Blunt; his butler, George Adams, and cook, Mary Child, if respectively still in his service at his decease; one year's wages each to servants of three years' service.

To each of his children he left such a sum as, with sums recorded in his private books as having been given or advanced to them, will make up £10,000, and to each daughter who is a spinster a further £1,000. He left the residue of his estate to his children in equal shares, but the benefits of his son Gilbert are to be retained upon trust, and the benefits to his daughters as to one-fifth absolutely, the balance thereof remaining upon trusts.

Forewarned is Forearmed. It is as well that the Chancellor and his friends are no doubt spoken that they leave us in no plain, and, above all, the basis with which they hope to lure the constituents to their side in the coming election.—Court Journal.

BOARD OF TRADE.

ST. JOHN'S. The formal opening by the Governor, Sir, Ralph Williams, of the new board of trade is an event of far-reaching importance, not only to St. John's, but to the whole future of Newfoundland.

The department has been organized on the best models, and the work has been started under the most expert advice and assistance obtainable. The board begins its career of usefulness under the happiest auspices, for not only has it the support of all the leading commercial men of the city, but it comes into existence at a time when the enormous resources of the island are attracting the attention of influential syndicates and large numbers of industrial investors in the British Islands and the United States.

The discovery of anthracite coal at Fort Eau has aroused considerable attention. Further reports fully confirm the first estimate both of the extent of the coalfield and the quality of the coal. There is no doubt the find is one of enormous value.

Another big pulp deal is being negotiated in which London capitalists are the principal parties concerned. The herring fishery promises to be very successful this season.

Agricultural Possibilities. Newfoundland has great capabilities as an agricultural country, both for the produce of splendid vegetables and superior stock. The country is specially well suited for sheep raising. The island mutton has a specially fine flavor, equal to the best Scotch.

There is a very strong feeling here against Peary's action in keeping back Captain Bartlett from the last march for the Pole. No man served Peary better than Bartlett and his hardy Newfoundland crew.

The whale fishery has been especially successful this season. One little vessel scored last week her hundredth whale. Others have also been very lucky. The weather continues good; the ice longed for the old, well-ordered days.

GOVERNOR'S COMPLIMENT.

WELLINGTON. The district of Marlborough, in the South Island, is celebrating the Jubilee of its settlement and foundation. Numerous festivities have been arranged, and the governor, Lord Plunket, has gone down to take part in them. Speaking at one of the public gatherings his excellency paid a compliment to the mothers of New Zealand. He said he placed the Dominion first among the nations of the world for having the best-cared-for children he had seen.

New Land Policy.

Sir Joseph Ward announced that the system of paying for estates purchased for closer settlement by debentures with interest payable in London has not been a success. In future such purchases will be made with cash. The States Guaranteed Advance Bill has been carried.

In connection with the claims arising out of the wreck of the Penguin, the courts have decided that so long as a ship is seaworthy the owners cannot be held responsible for the loss of luggage or merchandise. The steamship Penguin, belonging to the Union Steamship Company, ran on the rocks at Cape Terawhiti, Cook's straits, during a gale on the night of February 12th. Seventy-five persons perished in the wreck.

Gold Output. The gold output of the Dominion for October was valued at £198,366, as compared with £124,015 in October, 1908.

RHODESIA'S PROSPECTS.

SALISBURY. Sir Edwin Dunning, in an interview at Gwelo on the subject of mining prospects in Rhodesia, stated that after closely watching events in that country for some time he was most favorably impressed with the prospects, and regarded the future of Rhodesia as immense. He considers every part of the district highly mineralized, and where one small battery exists to-day he is confident that twenty will be pounding away in years to come. Sir Edwin has been so favorably impressed with what he has seen that he has already acquired valuable interests in the district, having purchased three promising properties for high figures. The great cry of the country was for population, capital, and energy to develop its great mineral wealth. Sir Edwin Dunning is particularly impressed with the immense possibilities of the Gwelo district, which, as a centre, should have a great future.

To place foreign manufacturers on a fair competitive basis with those in this country would be a step in the right direction for securing a better market for the British wool—Iron and Steel Trades Journal, London.

The whole object of the budget is to preserve the system which robs national commerce of an equal chance in the markets of the world, which allows every nation repelling us from its markets to keep a footing of increasing privilege in our own, and which gives foreign competition the fullest opportunity and assistance for persisting and succeeding in its very object—the displacement of British labor.—Observer.

CAPITAL SITE BILL.

MELBOURNE. The Federal Capital Site Bill having passed all its stages in the senate, has now been introduced into the House of Representatives, and given a second reading. The bill fixes the site in the Yass-Camden district of New South Wales, and formally accepts the offer of the mother state of 900 square miles of territory with jurisdiction over a watershed. It is considered unlikely that the House of Representatives will make any amendments to the measure.

The capital site question has been a burning one since the inauguration of federation, and the near approach of its settlement will go far towards smoothing away the differences that are prone to arise between the states and the Commonwealth. There will then be a federation of spirit as well as of letter.

Thriving Trade. The work of investigating the claims of the old people resident in the Commonwealth to pensions has now been practically completed and there are 64,000 beneficiaries on the roll. The cost of the pensions to the Commonwealth will be about £1,500,000, which is half a million less than was anticipated.

Trade is thriving in all departments throughout Australia. The federal revenue returns have just been issued for the past quarter. The collections amounted to £3,821,081, which is an increase of £118,970 on the corresponding period of last year.

In all probability next quarter will show a much greater increase. Reports from all the states go to show that the early promise of a new locomotive is being magnificently fulfilled. There is abundant evidence abroad that Australia is feeling her feet as a nation, and will now go ahead fast.

GREAT COAL STRIKE.

SYDNEY.

The strike declared by the coal miners in the Newcastle and Maitland districts commenced on November 8th. Altogether 12,000 miners have come out, laying idle all the Newcastle and Maitland collieries. The southern and western coal miners and the water-side workers will meet immediately to decide whether they shall join the strike. The causes of the movement practically resolve themselves into the question of supremacy between the miners and the mine owners.

Coal stocks are generally low, and it is expected that a number of interstate steamers will be laid up immediately. The railways have two months' supplies, and the Sydney municipal electricity works the same, but the gas company has only coal enough for a month, while business firms generally have still smaller stocks. The railway commissioners have seized all coal in trucks and ships at the side of the Carrington Dyke at Newcastle. The southern and western miners are working. The Sydney water-side laborers are awaiting official communications. They express willingness to join the movement. The Newcastle coal-trimmers and crane employees are, for the present, idle. Many retail dealers have advanced the price of coal 100 per cent. The colliery proprietors have been surprised by the men's sudden action, and think that a long strike is probable. They profess, however, not to be perturbed, as they have recently not been doing full work.

The exports of wool and wheat will possibly be seriously hampered, and it is suggested that coal should be obtained from Japan.

Supplies Limited. It is feared that the coal strike will create a serious situation at Melbourne, although it is understood that the railways, tramways and gas and electric companies hold supplies for two months.

REPORT ON CROPS.

CALCUTTA. For 1909 the second forecast of the cotton crop for the Punjab shows that the area under cotton in the British district is 1,460,000 acres, as compared with 1,477,500 acres in the first forecast. The principal increases are in Hissar and Dera Gazi Khan. There was a short break in the monsoon in the second and third weeks of August, except in the submontane tracts. This terminated before any harm was done, and there followed excellent rain until the middle of September. Excessive rain caused damage to the crop on the lowlands in Ludhiana, Ferozepore, Amritsar, Gurdaspur and Sialkot, but the prospect of the crop is good in all the important tracts. The area in native states is 107,800 acres, as against 115,400 acres in 1908.

The first indigo crop forecast for the united provinces, 1909, states that the exact area sown with indigo will not be known until December next, but the return published by the Irrigation department for July last shows this year a slight increase of 1,029 acres. The indigo area irrigated from canals being 15,418 acres, compared with 13,988 acres last year. In the Meerut, Agra, Rohilkhand, and Allahabad divisions, the season has been favorable to the indigo crop, and a full normal output is at present estimated. In Oudh the yield is estimated at 75 per cent. of the normal, and in the Benares and Gorakhpur divisions, at 50 per cent. of the normal, owing to damage done by floods and insects. The area under indigo in the Punjab in this year estimated at 32,200 acres against 36,200 acres in last year's final report. The decrease is confined to Multan, and is due to a shortage of water in the canals at sowing time.

Robin Hood Flour Is Different

APPLYING TURBINE TO LOCOMOTIVES

One Built in Glasgow May Revolutionize Land Motive Power.

GREAT COAL STRIKE.

SYDNEY.

President Hugh Reid, of the Glasgow University Engineering Society, has announced that a new locomotive is under construction which may lead to the application to the railway engines of the world of the turbine system, which has revolutionized steam propulsion on the Atlantic. Mr. Reid describes this engine as the first steam turbine electric locomotive.

Various proposals had been made to electrify the existing steam railways, but the anticipated cost of conversion and of prospective and subsequent maintenance had hitherto prevented progress. Attempts had been made also to introduce independent self-generating electric units that might operate over the existing railway systems without necessitating any electrical equipment on the railways themselves. The Hellmuth steam-electric locomotive which was built in 1894 was the most notable of these attempts, but Mr. Reid asserts that the new steam turbine electric locomotive, which is now being built by the North British Locomotive Company, is a much more practical development.

The steam is generated in a boiler of the ordinary locomotive type, which is fitted with a superheater. The steam from the boiler is led to a turbine of the impulse type running at a speed of 3,000 revolutions a minute, to which is directly coupled a continuous current, variable voltage dynamo or generator. The dynamo supplies electrical energy of from 200 to 600 volts to four series-wound traction motors, the armatures of which are built on the four main or driving axes of the locomotive.

The exhaust steam from the turbine passes into a steam condenser and is, together with the circulating and condensing water, delivered eventually to the hot well. As the steam turbine, unlike the reciprocating steam engine, requires no internal lubrication, the water of the condensation is free from oil and consequently is returned from the hot well direct to the boiler by means of a feed pump. The water evaporated by the boiler is therefore returned to the boiler again and again and the supply of water carried in the tanks is actually circulating water for condensation purposes. This condensing water is circulated within what is practically a close cycle by means of small centrifugal pumps driven by auxiliary steam turbines placed alongside the main turbine and dynamo.

Mr. Reid declares that the idea is the outcome of much thought and experiment extending over a period of several years, and is being carried out on a large scale. As the engine under construction is intended for express passenger work, Mr. Reid hopes to obtain comparisons from its actual working with the performances of reciprocating steam locomotives, especially as regards the relative consumption of fuel and water, and also as to the efficiency of transforming the energy of steam into drive-bar or train pull, and also relative to the rapidity of acceleration under the old and new systems. Most of the component parts of this steam turbine electric locomotive have already proved themselves effective and efficient in other application, and the novelty lies in the combination of the different elements of which the locomotive is composed. The expected results in this case should not therefore, Mr. Reid believes, be so problematical as in the case of an invention where the novelty is in the details. It is the question of the cost of the locomotive which most troubles the patentees or raises any doubt as to its general adoption.

Dr. Robert W. Woods, professor of experimental physics at Johns Hopkins University, has made another remarkable discovery. He has photographed light waves or colors invisible to the human eye.

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One-day my boss asked me why I worked so much, and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got Dr. New Merion Kennedy's reply. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $35 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

If so it was one the people never saw and it could have no force because there was no legislative sanction behind it.

According to the premier and attorney-general thirty millions were to be expended in British Columbia on supplies for the C. N. R.—provided they could be got here as cheap as somewhere else.

This contract is remarkable for what it does not contain, but we have the word of the premier and Mr. Bower that Dan Mann has kindly consented, if anything has been overlooked in the interests of the people all you have to do is make your wishes known and it will be put in.

From what he has seen through the province Mr. Oliver described the need for roads and trails and condemned the government as criminal for hoarding up a surplus when the people were suffering for means of transports.

C. N. R. Prospectus Mr. Oliver took up the alleged objections to the C. N. R. to run through Hope mountains and their choice of 'Fraser canyon route' as given by the premier and attorney-general, and pointed out the feasibility and value of a line through the mountains.

Mr. Oliver briefly reviewed the Liberal policy of railway construction and made it plain that 1,000 miles of line absolutely opening up new territory would be built if a Liberal government was placed in power, to co-operate with the Dominion government in the development of the province.

The history of the Songhees reserve problem since the McBride government mixed in and tied the Dominion government's hands by its action was reviewed and then Mr. Oliver made the statement quoted on the front page and read a telegram from the minister of the interior, promising Dominion support to the policy proposed.

The prodigal and wasteful policy of the government in regard to land and timber were dwelt on and Mr. Oliver, in concluding, said: 'The Words of a Statesman.

'If we are returned to power I shall to the utmost of my ability, endeavor to administer the affairs of this country and enact legislation which shall be for the benefit of the whole people of this province. (Cheers.)

The province is going at the present time it is creating conditions which will inevitably breed, in the future, anarchy and revolution. I believe we are laying the foundation for conditions as bad as exist in the old land. I do not want to do that. (Hear, hear.)

'I want to lay a foundation in this province which will enable the whole of the people to share in the great natural wealth we have. (Cheers.) That is my desire. That is what I shall fight for if the electors do my colleagues through the province and myself the honor of putting us in power. (Renewed cheers.)

'We have arrived at a crisis in the history of British Columbia. It is a question of patriotism not partyism. British Columbia for British Columbians not for speakers. (Hear, hear.)

These are the questions with which you will have to deal. I appeal to your patriotism; I appeal to your conscience. I have placed facts before you; the responsibility is now with you. Whatever you decide you will have to abide by, and your children, because these questions will reach down to future generations. I ask you, then, to deal with them from your conscience, and do as you believe in your duty to British Columbia, to yourself and to future generations.' (Cheers.)

There was a scene of great enthusiasm as Mr. Oliver closed, the vast audience rising to its feet and cheering vociferously for some minutes.

The singing of the National Anthem concluded the proceedings.

THE VOTE. Place—Transfer Stables, Broughton street. Hours—8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

PAST AND PRESENT—A WARNING.

To the Editor: When the province was induced to enter into confederation, one of the terms agreed on was a transcontinental railway from the Atlantic to Esquimalt.

The first sod was turned and shipments of rails were landed. Esquimalt and Victorians were happy. A twenty mile belt of land was reserved along the east coast of Vancouver Island to Seymour Narrows as a bonus to the railway.

The railway was to come by Bute Inlet and cross Seymour Narrows and down the coast to Esquimalt. On such terms we entered confederation. The Dominion government failed to carry out their part of the agreement.

Many surveys were made; years went on, no railway built, and the people of this province threatened to secede. The Dominion government dropped the line of railway by Bute Inlet and Seymour Narrows and chose the Fraser River route to Burrard Inlet, and, after some political manoeuvring, never understood by the most of people, the railway was run to the site of what is now Vancouver, and, consequently, Vancouver got the turkey and Victoria got the feathers.

But Victorians wanted a railway. The twenty mile belt was still available to give for a railway, and a railway they must have. A Mr. Clemence came along and offered to build a railway from Esquimalt to Seymour Narrows for the twenty mile belt and put up $10,000 as a forfeit.

Whether he lost the ten thousand or not I do not know, but he failed to go on with the railway. After some pilgrimages had been made to the foot of the throne and many demands made on the Dominion government, what was known as the Carnarvon settlement was agreed on. Still delays took place, and finally Lord Dufferin, then governor-general, came to Victoria to try and effect a settlement. The Dominion government was to build a railway from Esquimalt to Nanaimo. This was defeated in the Dominion senate; and to make a long story short, the Dominion government offered the province for a railway the paltry sum of $750,000, and the province was to give the Dominion government 3,500,000 acres in the Peace river country.

The provincial legislature offered the late Robert Dunsmuir the $750,000 and the railway belt, containing about 1,750,000 acres, to build a railway and operate it from Esquimalt to Nanaimo. Mr. Dunsmuir was not very anxious to accept the proposition, but the people of the island were unanimous with few exceptions, in favor of this notorious give-away and the members of the legislature at that time (1883) were the stupidest mummies that ever sat in a legislature and gave away a property, which if the province owned to-day as it was then, would be worth over one hundred millions of dollars, and would pay for a railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

I merely recall this ancient affair to show how little reliance can be placed in a provincial legislature or province made by individuals or even governments. And now we are asked by Mr. McBride to accept what he is pleased to call his railway policy, and we even do not know what that policy is. The only evidence we have is a kind of memorandum of a contract between himself and D. D. Mann, of the C. N. Railway Company.

There must be something wrong in the so-called McBride railway policy when his two ablest and most reliable colleagues would have nothing to do with it, and resigned. I think the people of this province should look upon this question as a business proposition and not as a party one. We are all interested Liberals and Conservatives, and all should closely consider this serious proposition. Would one business man accept such a proposition from another? Would he endorse a note for twenty-one millions on the promise that he never would be called on to pay a cent? McBride informs us we would be secured by a first mortgage. We do not know that that is in the so-called contract. In business, men's word requires to be backed by security. We are absolutely in the dark as regards any security we should have if we accepted this shady McBride railway policy.

So far as the Barclay-Victoria railway and the English Bluff steam ferry are concerned, surely no sane person believes that there is any intention of carrying out the latter. The face of it, Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann are shrewd railway builders and would not agree to build one hundred miles of railway until they had their engineers examine and report on the route. Neither would they propose to run a railway ferry from a bluff on the shore of the ocean where there was no harbor. We have a car ferry now. Some time ago we had two. A car ferry does well enough in a small way. But there is no railway but a transcontinental railway that is really of any great benefit to British Columbia will never boom until we have such a railway. But if we accept this miserable so-called railway policy of McBride it means good-bye to a transcontinental railway for many years to come if ever, as the revenues of the province will be swallowed up in the so-called McBride railway policy.

The finances of the province are now on a sound basis, thanks to Messrs. Pattison and Fulton, two careful men. Let us keep our finances and reduce taxation and when advantageous openings are offered we will be in a position to assist the same. Mr. Oliver's railway policy is a safe one, as it is still in our own control and can be dealt with as occasion requires. I think there is a good deal of truth in Mr. Patterson's ideas as to the C. P. R. and C. N. R. understanding each other, and the result would be that the C. P. R. would retain full control of Vancouver Island, for if we accept this infamous McBride railway policy, no transcontinental railway will be built to this island for at least a generation or two.

OLD TIMER. Returning to his house at Walworth, London, Louis Gerard, a restaurateur, told his wife he had scratched his lip, which was much swollen, with a fishbone. He died later from septic poisoning.

LOVER BLINDS HIMSELF. Unable to marry, Couple Decide to Die Together. A peculiarly distressing love tragedy has just occurred in Courbiere, a German garrison town.

Among the officers stationed there was Lieut. Buchholz, who was still in his teens, and who had fallen in love with a young girl clerk, named Minna Piepke.

Minna, who lived in the neighboring town of Graudenz, was even younger than the lieutenant, and was dazzled by the idea of this handsome dashing officer, in his glittering uniform, courting her.

The girl was only the daughter of an artisan, and her parents, knowing that marriage with the well-born lieutenant was out of the question, did all lying unconscious by her side.

The desperate youth had intended to kill himself, but he only shot out both his eyes, and will probably live. Knowing the impossibility of their marriage, the pair had decided to die together.

Below Auction Prices

Yesterday at public auction lots of Hillside avenue near Cook brought from $500 to $550. At these prices we believe the lots were undervalued. Contrast, however, the values we offer on Quadra street. Here we have larger lots (50 x 135), half a mile closer to the city, standing to gain as much by a car line up Hillside avenue as do any lots actually on that avenue, going at prices fully 25 per cent. less than those realized at auction yesterday.

Nothing can prevent a sharp advance soon in the price of these Quadra street lots. The city council will spend $50,727 in improving this street. A graded street, with tar macadamized road bed and permanent sidewalks on the east side will enhance the value of residential lots in this neighborhood at least 50 per cent. We have made money for many people, but never have we offered a surer investment than this.

URGENT AMENDMENTS TO SCHOOL ACT
Committee of Trustees Wait Upon Provincial Government.

New Westminster, Nov. 23.—At the convention of school trustees held at Chilliwack last week it was decided to appoint a committee to wait upon the government to see what could be done toward amending the school act to suit the present needs of the province.

It was the opinion of the meeting that the time had come for certain changes, necessitated by the growing needs of the country. The committee will insist that amendments be made along the lines suggested by the resolutions passed at the convention.

They will also urge the government to appoint a commission to look into the whole school system of the province and see what can be done toward bringing it to even a higher point of efficiency than at present. It is the intention of the trustees to appoint men to act in conjunction with this proposed commission and to have the colleges, school teachers and all others interested in the development of education advise and assist it to reform the school act if changes in it be found to be expedient.

It was decided at the convention to send two delegates to the Albertan convention, which is to be held sometime in January. The choice of the men was left in the hands of the executive.

J. C. Loree and F. Peebles both report a splendid convention and all kinds of enthusiasm. "The convention was like all its predecessors," remarked Mr. Peebles, "the members all left it impressed with the great work that it is doing and is bound to do."

ORE SHIPMENTS FROM KALSO-SLOCAN MINES
Output of District for October Totalled Nearly Two Thousand Tons.

Kaslo, Nov. 23.—The ore shipments from the Kalso-Slocan district for the month of October totalled 1,964 tons, of which 1,113 were zinc and 851 silver-lead. The Whitewaters were the largest producers, shipping out 635 tons of zinc and 369 tons of silver-lead, the former going to the National and U. S. Zinc Company's at Bartlesville, Okla., and Blende, Col. the silver-lead concentrates going to Triff. The Lucky Jim does not figure as prominently as heretofore, but this is because of a movement of concentrates at the mine. The Rambler shows up better than for some months past, with a total of 200 tons of silver-lead to its credit. One new shipper, the Panama, appears on the list and the Bismarck is again included. The Bluebell sent out a total of 290 tons of concentrates, being the only take shipper included in our compilation. The total for the district to date is 17,516 tons of silver-lead and zinc ore, which is a very creditable showing.

The following are the mines and output for October:

Mine	Tons
Bambler	200
Panama	20
Bismarck	20
Cork	20
Whitewater	120
Whitewater Deep	240
Bluebell	290
Whitewater	420
Whitewater Deep	215
Lucky Jim	278
Total	1,964
Total for the date, 17,516 tons of silver-lead and zinc.

WHY NOT STOP THAT ITCH?
Write for a Free Sample Bottle of D. D. D. and Get Instant Relief.

If you are afflicted with skin disease, the kind that seems to baffle medical skill, and leaves you wild with itch, you would do well to investigate a prescription which is now recommended by many of the best skin specialists, even in preference to their own prescriptions. It is the simple, soothing oil of wintergreen compound known as D. D. D. Prescription, and it sells at $1.00 a bottle.

But a sample bottle will be enough to convince you that the Itch is instantly allayed by this prescription. Get a liberal sample bottle of the healing, soothing, external remedy—D. D. D. Prescription—see what!

We feel quite sure that before long you will be cured, and at any rate we know—know positively—that your Itch will be relieved instantly, the minute the soothing liquid is applied to the skin.

C. H. Bowes & Co., druggists, Government street, Victoria.

Mrs. W. L. Clarke, of Laggan, Alta., tried D. D. D. and says:

"It is the best remedy for the skin or scalp that I have ever used."

For free sample bottle of D. D. D. Prescription, write to the D. D. D. Laboratory, Department V, T. 22 Jordan St., Toronto.

For sale by all druggists.

FIRE ESCAPES ON HOTELS AT KELOWNA
Discussion as to Jurisdiction of the City Council.

Kelowna, Nov. 23.—At the last meeting of the city council AM, Cox asked if anything had been done in connection with the provision of fire-ladders and other safety appliances in the hotels.

Ald. Elliott said the council's requirements had not been carried out, and he was in favor of the license of the offending hotels being cancelled until such time as they shall have complied with the law.

This view was shared by the other aldermen, but Ald. Hall thought the license commissioners might override the council in the matter on a question of jurisdiction, and the city solicitor should be consulted in order to ascertain if the council has power to cancel licenses. Even if not, the council might have power to close the hotels as places of public entertainment.

A long discussion as to the respective powers of the council and the license commissioners was terminated by leaving the matter in the hands of Acting Mayor Bailey and Ald. Elliott, to consult Mr. Burns.

CURLERS MEET IN ANNUAL SESSION
Okanagan Association Elects Officers—Question of Affiliation.

Kelowna, Nov. 23.—The annual meeting of the Okanagan Curling Association was held in the provincial court house here Friday afternoon. There was a disappointing attendance of delegates from outside points, Vernon being the only place represented in the persons of Messrs. P. Dickson and T. Crowell. The Kelowna delegates were Messrs. P. DuMoulin and F. W. Fraser.

The resignation of secretary-treasurer of Mr. McRae, who intimated his inability to accept office for another year, was accepted with regret, and the meeting proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year as follows: Patron, G. A. Henderson, Vernon; honorary president, E. R. Bailey, Kelowna; chairman, Rev. T. Greene, Kelowna; president, P. Murphy, Enderby; vice-president, P. DuMoulin, Kelowna; secretary-treasurer, Hamilton Lang, Vernon; executive committee, Geo. Bell, Enderby; Mr. Morrin, Peachland; Mr. Fetherstonhaugh, Summerland; T. Crowell, Vernon; J. Bowes, Kelowna; Mr. Little, Armstrong.

It was decided to hold the annual banquet at Enderby this season, if the local club can guarantee four sheets of ice, otherwise it will be played at Vernon under the same guarantee.

The secretary was instructed to write the Kootenay Curling Association and inquire as to their terms of affiliation and the date and place of their banquet this winter.

CONFERENCE OF RURAL DEANERY OF NELSON
Distribution of Out Stations Completed—Bishopric Endowment Fund.

Nelson, Nov. 23.—A conference of the rural deanery of Nelson was held in St. Saviour's parish hall. The rural dean welcomed the attending clergy, expressing particular satisfaction that every parish in the rural deanery was represented, and regretting the absence of Archbishop Beer by reason of sickness, and that of Rev. Thomas Blaylock through an unfortunate accident.

Supplication of the various out-stations in the rural deanery was allotted as follows: Rev. H. W. Simpson, Rossland to Northport, and intersecting points, together with Westley and Deer Park; Rev. E. A. St. C. Smyth, Trail to Slocan Junction, together with East and West Robson; Rev. J. V. Harrison, Slocan; City to Patrick's mill; Rev. Fred. H. Graham, Nelson to Bonington Falls and intersecting points, Pond d'Oreille and Willow Point; Rev. Christopher Reed, Nine-Mile to Queens Bay and intersecting points, Kootenay Bay to Crawford Bay, Gray Creek, Boswell and points on lower Kootenay lake; Rev. Gilbert Cook, Alinsworth, Riel and points on upper Kootenay lake.

Arrangements to canvass subscriptions for the Kootenay bishopric endowment fund were completed.

Rev. H. W. Simpson introduced as a special subject of discussion, "The Church Catechism as Adapted to Canadian Needs." Mr. Simpson explained the comparatively well known "Method of St. Sulpice" and illustrated its practical application in the work of the church. He suggested certain modifications as advisable but strongly advocated the adoption of the method as a whole.

A lengthy and interesting discussion followed both upon the particular subject introduced by Mr. Simpson and upon Sunday school work in general.

The next meeting of the rural deanery will be held in Trail on January 28th, 1910.

SIR HIBBERT TUPPER'S COMPLIMENTS TO HON. R. MCBRIDE.

To the Editor: I quote from Mr. McBride's speech at Victoria on the night of the 21st instant: "And now," continued the premier, "Sir Hibbert Tupper has come forward to fight me. Well, that fact does not cause me the least disturbance or concern. (Loud cheers.) His absence from the ranks I consider a source of strength. Sir Hibbert Tupper, K. C. M. G., told the people in his speech at Revelstoke that he supported the government up to the time of the announcement of the railroad policy. But he did not, in 1904 we had a bye-election in Lillooet. Because Sir Hibbert Tupper, K. C. M. G., had been unable to secure some coal licenses he filled the Vancouver World with columns of a personal attack on me, and then flooded the Lillooet district with thousands of copies of that paper. But his attacks on that occasion were unsuccessful as they will be now. We carried the seat at Lillooet by a large majority."

The statements above I regard as reckless falsehoods, each and every one of them. I did not state at Revelstoke, or elsewhere, anything to the effect that I had supported the government up to the time of the announcement of the railway policy. On the contrary, I said I did not vote at all at the elections held after the Green episode in May, 1904. As for coal or oil lands, Mr. McBride ought to know that he never had it in his power to grant or refuse these applications. These applications are made under the statute to a member of the government, who acts in these matters as a statutory officer only. In the case in question there were conflicting applications over a very large tract of country and in the confusion the government was being pressed to interfere. Of course, the legislation, as it stood, required the disputes to be determined ultimately by the courts. Mr. McBride called upon me and sought my advice as to the policy the government should adopt in order to put an end to the confusion and to assist in the early opening of the South East Kootenay oil fields. I reminded him that I was interested as an applicant for one of the areas, but added that if I were in his place I would not interfere, that the legislation, as it stood, leaving everything to the courts for ultimate decision seemed on the whole the most satisfactory. He agreed with my views and returned to Victoria. To my surprise he at once had an order in council adopted, embodying the policy which has taken thousands of dollars out of prospectors, and has been declared invalid by the courts. In view of Mr. McBride's statement as above, I must conclude that the policy which was adopted, which took place between us on this subject and I herewith enclose a copy of it.

As to the other statement I say that I never sent a copy of the World newspaper, or any other newspaper to a soul in Lillooet.

In the Colquhoun of the 21st I also observe the following: "In the Family." "It looks as if the Tupper family were more or less interested in opposing the Canadian Northern. Stewart Tupper is a brother of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who addressed a meeting in Victoria last evening."

"Toronto, November 19th.
"Stewart Tupper's firm were solicitors for both Canadian Northern and Canadian Pacific, until the Canadian Northern contract with the Manitoba government was entered into; his firm resigned the Canadian Northern solicitorship, retaining the Canadian Pacific solicitorship, and opposing the Canadian Northern contract."

"(83.) "D. D. MANN."
I need only say that so far as I am concerned I never knew or heard that my brother had acted for the Canadian Northern, or anyone in connection with it. I have had no communication with any member of my family on the subject of this contract or to the railway policy. To use one of Abe Lincoln's expressions, "I can skin my own skunk."

Yours truly,
CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER.

June 17th, 1904.

Hon. R. McBride, Victoria, B. C.
My Dear McBride: As your course re oil is exactly opposite to my advice, you will not be surprised to learn that I am of opinion it is wholly without justification or excuse. I write freely, as it does not affect my rights at all and I asked no favors.

What I am concerned in now is an attempt to legislate by order in council and to play havoc with laws intended to encourage investment in this province by their certainty and freedom from government interference.

I confess, too, a keen disappointment that action directly opposed to my views should have been taken without the courtesy of being told of this intention before action.

Yours faithfully,
CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER.

Victoria, June 18, 1904.

Hon. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K. C. M. G., Vancouver, B. C.

My Dear Sir Hibbert: Personal Kootenay Coal and Oil Lands.

It is most regrettable that any misunderstanding should have arisen over this question. The conference which took place in your office some days ago I considered of a strictly private nature. The points you then urged were carefully weighed by the executive later on, and the course finally adopted was not settled on without looking to all surrounding circumstances. You will likely remember that last winter I made a statement in the local assembly definitely outlining the government's policy; this was made with the approval of the party. Nothing prevented me since that time has made me feel like detaching from the course laid down. Let me give you this assurance, that there was no intention on the part of the executive, or any member of it, to treat unfairly or discourteously with you.

Very sincerely,
RICHARD MCBRIDE.

Since writing the above I have been told that you have given the World a column interview—surely this cannot be true.

Kootenay Coal and Oil Lands,
June 20th, 1904.

Hon. R. McBride, Premier, Victoria, B. C.

My Dear McBride:—Yours of the 15th with enclosure.

I certainly did give my opinion to the reporter of the World, respecting your administration of the "Coal Mines Act." It is calculated to greatly retard the development of the resources of this province. The policy (outlined in a letter of 21st December 1903), which you say met with the approval of that party, is not in accord with the action taken. The conference in my office I have, of course, treated as private, but the fact remains that you told me action had been deferred to get my views; you got them and approved of them, and they were exactly contrary to the plan you afterwards so promptly adopted. Resentment of your treatment of my advice, under the circumstances, is a small affair compared with the policy involved. Though one of the applicants for a license, I feel I can nevertheless express my opinion on this subject, as I was careful to tell you at the outset that I did not personally seek a favor nor did I know how I could under the law and the facts obtain one from the government. I have, I can assure you, no personal quarrel with any of your colleagues nor with you but I am opposed tooth and nail to this sort of administration of the mining interests of the province.

Referring again to your letter of the 2nd December, 1903, attached to your letter now before me, may I ask why, after writing, "We will not, however, assume the responsibility of deciding conflicting claims," you propose to give every Tom, Dick or Harry a "special license." The answer is apparent; to put money (whether according to law or not) in the hands of the province; and the result is to make confusion in this district of the province worse confounded, not to speak of adding the result of uncertainty to every act now being administered by government. Again you said you propose to "freeze" all valid legal locations." Is faith kept in asking the locator of 1901, 1902 or 1903 to pay $50 more than the law provided for at that time?

That has become of "the policy of the present government . . . to secure to all present holders of any claims their statutory rights?" "The only sensible meaning of this language is that you proposed to abide by the statute and as you afterwards said, "deal with the lands in question as though the same had always been vacant Crown lands." I charge that from all this you have departed and that you are not regarding statutory rights or dealing with the lands as vacant Crown lands. I charge, further, that no government has a right to traffic with licenses in such a way as you propose to do, causing endless confusion and litigation and at the same time seeking to escape the consequences of its own illegal acts.

I believe you are acting in violation of the constitution and in defiance of the acts of the Legislature in adding to and altering the law of the land by order-in-council.

I shall be greatly surprised if in the end my views are not shared by the people as a whole.

Regretting exceedingly that these things have come to pass,
I am,
Yours very sincerely,
CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER.

Victoria, B. C., June 22nd, 1904.

My Dear Sir Charles Tupper:—I have your letter of the twentieth as well as a copy of the Vancouver World containing the coal lands interview. With regard to the latter I cannot help but express my strong dissent from your course. Surely if we must have internal troubles they can best be settled in the party folds. What good to either party or country can come from our most prominent and experienced Conservatives rushing into the enemy's press, particularly when we are trying to bring about a united party and stable government?—I cannot agree to your course, "contrary to constitutional authority—and liable to shake the confidence of the outside world."

Neither Wilson nor myself made any promise to you—how could we? I was anxious to have your views, and so far as I could, carry them out.

Very sincerely,
RICHARD MCBRIDE.
The Hon. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K. C. M. G., K. C., etc.

(Personal)

Vancouver, B. C., June 23rd, 1904.
Dear McBride:—The point of your letter of the 22nd is that we should settle internal troubles in the party folds. I quite agree; and I have always followed this course. Strong party man as I am, I would not follow Borden if he proposed to legislate by order-in-council where the statute gave him no authority, and I would openly denounce such a course.

This is not a matter to settle in the party fold. Against my strong advice and contrary to your letter of December, 1903, you have committed yourself. In my view your action is contrary to the constitution and fraught with serious consequences to British Columbia. Its duty to the party requires me to keep such views for the party fold. You say neither Wilson nor you made a promise to me. I did not say you did; but you and Wilson did agree with my views. Subsequently Wilson raised another point. I thought his opinion wrong, and promised him a memo. I sent him this at once and before it reached him action was taken. I naturally objected to this. This phase of the question is, however, too small for the party fold, and being private, would not under any circumstances be ventilated in the press.

On the large question I feel free on the platform and in the press to speak my mind.

Very sincerely,
CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER.

Fireman and Brakeman Also Sustain Injuries When Locomotive Rolls Down Embankment.

Misoula, Mont., Nov. 24.—Engineer O. R. Meehan is dead to-day and Fireman H. H. Byrd and Brakeman H. C. Brown are seriously injured as the result of a Northern Pacific engine rolling down a fifty-foot embankment.

The accident, which occurred yesterday, was caused by the freight train crashing into a landslide near Iron Mountain.

Workmen have discovered a Celtic vase, probably dating back to B. C. 100, during excavations at the rear of the Bath, Eng., Guildhall. The vase was broken after being unearthed owing to a fall of timber, but is being repaired.

Need This Furniture?

BOUND TO DURING WET AND MUDDY WINTER TIME

THE winter season, more than any other, calls for hall racks, umbrella stands, etc. A place to hang the extra wraps, a place to store the rubbers and a place for dripping umbrellas is much desired. A good hall rack or combination of rack and stand solves the problem.

Then, too, don't overlook the importance of having this part of the house "correct." It is the first glance your visitor gets of your home and it is desirable to make a good first impression—first impressions "stick," so they tell us. Let us fix up your hall for you—no such complete stock of hall furnishings to be found elsewhere.

From a door mat to a most elaborate hall seat we are prepared to supply your wants. Fix up before Christmas—come in to-day and "look around."

Many Excellent Hall Racks From $12

THE HALL RACK is still a much favored piece of furniture. They are made in such attractive designs and this feature combined with convenience in arrangement of umbrella rack, hooks, mirror, cupboard, etc., appeals to many. We have never shown better values than we are offering this season and if you have been promising yourself one of these items you would do well to make an early visit of inspection. No better time than to-day to come in and see stylish hall racks we can offer you priced at $12, $16, $18, $25, $32.50.

In Umbrella Racks We Show Pleasing and Serviceable Styles from $2.25

We show several attractive styles in umbrella racks, having them in golden and Early English finished oak. Put one of these at the back door. Excellent for offices, too.

Three Little-Priced Bedroom Pieces

DO you favor mahogany furniture for the bedroom? Thousands prefer this finish for the sleeping room, and we heartily recommend it to anyone wishing to make a room attractive and at little cost. Mahogany is a scarce wood nowadays, and solid mahogany furniture runs into money quickly. In these birch mahogany pieces we show something that only those "well up" in woods could distinguish from the genuine.

The grain, the finish and the general workmanship throughout is superior. Designs are new and attractive and these features coupled with such little prices should make these offerings of special interest to you.
